British Troops Told to Shoot India Rioters

LAHORE, India, (AP) — Communal fighting subsided in Punjab's larger cities Monday as British airborne troops, with orders to shoot rioters on sight, patrolled troubled areas in this restless province.

Reports from outlying districts, however, said that fighting had spread out into the villages and that Hindu properties were being looted.

Hospital lists in Lahore disclosed that out of 159 casualties admitted during the last nine days, 53 were either dead on arrival or died in hospital. In Amritsar 88 persons were reported killed and 149 injured.

Sir Evan Jenkins, Punjab governor, and Sir John Bannet, inspector-general of provincial police, flew over Rawalpindi, 160 miles northwest of Lahore, and said smoke was rising from "about half-a-dozen" villages in the vicinity.

Rawalpindi itself was reported quiet.

Marshall Will Press Byrnes Alliance Plan

By John M. Hightower

MOSCOW, (AP)—U.S. State Secretary Marshall gave a new push Monday to the United States proposal for a four-power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only Britain's Ernest Bevin as the foreign ministers council met in snow-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Foreign Minister Bidault of France was reported to be tentatively agreeing to support the four-power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He insisted that the other parts must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a central government and a low level of industrial production.

Foreign Minister Molotov, according to the Moscow radio, told his British, American and French counterparts that the four powers faced a task that was not easy but had a "reliable basis for joint work." He unexpectedly interjected the political situation in China into the opening session of the conference when he asked that United States, Britain and Russia exchange information on conditions there.

The Moscow radio omitted reference to the proposed German peace treaty but said "the preparation of the draft peace treaty with Austria" was on the agenda.

Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the German disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevin is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

The ministers drove over snow-covered streets to the meeting place, the House of the Soviet Aviation Industry, two miles from the Kremlin. A handful of curious Russians saw them.

State Secretary Marshall was the first to arrive, reaching the building about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to open. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith accompanied Marshall.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France was next to arrive.

Foreign Minister Molotov and his deputy Andrei Vishinsky, arrived together. They apparently were the only ones of the four-power group recognized by the host country, who broke into a wave of hand-clapping. Molotov nodded curtsy.

The last to arrive was Britain's Ernest Bevin, who passed almost unnoticed between a few policemen on hand.

Leaves are formed for another struggle between Russia and the western powers—with each side apparently out to get what it wants from the German and Austrian peace treaties.

Every indication was that peace with the beaten countries would not be made without a long, wordy battle lasting for months—or even years.

State Secretary Marshall, Foreign Secretary Bevin, and Foreign Minister Bidault have predicted ultimate success. But the weekly New Times, generally regarded as the voice of the Soviet foreign office, blasted Anglo-United States policies on Germany and Austria and singled out three of Marshall's advisers for personal attack.

Privately, western diplomats expressed themselves as highly uncertain whether any real progress would be made in treaty drafting. East and west seemed mutually suspicious.

Charge U.S. Sailors Aided Illegal Jewish Immigration

JERUSALEM, (AP) — Twenty United States seamen appeared before a magistrate's court in Haifa Monday on charges of "aiding and abetting" illegal immigration into Palestine and were ordered held under detention for trial 14 days hence.

The seamen, crew members of an intercepted Jewish refugee ship, included both Jews and Gentiles. Also under detention was a newspaperman and a French woman writer aboard the ship.

British army officers meanwhile looked back on a week-end of gunfire and bomb blasts fatal to 10 persons and said they expected fresh violence as a result of deportation of unauthorized Jewish immigrants aboard the vessel.

Officials reported 599 such immigrants were aboard the 700-ton steam yacht Abil, boarded off Jaffa Saturday. They said that, except for a pregnant woman and her husband permitted to stay in the Holy Land, all were shipped to a Cyprus camp aboard three British troop carriers.

Slush, Mud, Fog Arrive in Britain

LONDON, (Reuters)—The long-awaited thaw which Britain was prematurely promised last week finally seemed to have arrived Monday—bringing with it slush, mud and fog. All shipping including colliers for London was brought to a halt as thick fog covered the Thames estuary.

All boat services between the Isle of Wight and the south coast mainland were suspended.

Main railway lines were open throughout the country for the first time for a month in which Britain suffered a fuel crisis, paralyzing industry and making millions idle. The number of blocked branch lines was growing smaller.

ROME PRINCE DIES

ROME, (AP)—Prince Marcantonio Colonna, 66, assistant to the papal throne and member of one of Rome's most prominent families, died Sunday after a long illness.

Helped Stake Sir Harry Oakes, Legendary Ontario Woman Dies

KIDKLAND LAKE, Ont., (CP)—A legendary figure in the goldfields of northern Ontario, 93-year-old Mrs. Rosa Brown died in hospital here Sunday night. She had suffered a heart attack March 3.

With her long endurance of barking dogs and costume of rubber boots and fur coat, Rosa had been a familiar sight in this district for nearly three decades.

A former washerwoman, she helped stake the late Sir Harry Oakes to his famous fortune in gold. It was in her boarding house that Oakes and other old-time prospectors swapped tall tales and rested after long hours in the bush.

An admirer of royalty, Hungarian-born Mrs. Brown grubstaked a hungry prospector and started him on the road which led to discovery of one of the most fabulously wealthy gold mines in the world—Lake Shore. The prospector—Harry Oakes, who later was knighted, was murdered in his Bahamas home in 1942.

Attired in a heavy fur coat and carrying a Union Jack larger than herself, Rosa was one of the first to greet the late Duke of Kent when he toured northern Ontario. When Their Majesties the King and Queen sailed to Canada, Rosa was at the Quebec City waterfront with the same flag. How she did it nobody knows, but this legendary figure of the gold belt broke through a curtain of police to be close at hand when the ship docked.

Mrs. Brown was reputed to be a wealthy woman but when newspapermen asked her the extent of her fortune one time, she replied: "It's none of your business."

2 Roman Catholic Clergymen Stabbed by Montreal 'Maniac'

MONTREAL, (CP)—A 37-year-old unemployed restaurant worker and avowed atheist, who said that he was seeking to rid the world of "false prophets," was in police custody Monday while doctors sought to save the lives of two Roman Catholic clergy members stabbed with a butcher knife a half-hour apart as they walked along a street in Montreal's east end.

Police said they were holding Marcel Julien, a tall, thin, nervous man who has been out of work for some time and who informed officers that there were "too many Roman Catholics and Protestants going around telling people they are going to hell." Capt. Georges Allain, head of the homicide squad, said no charge had been laid, pending word on whether the two clerics would pull through.

Police, who attributed the attacks to a "maniac," said Julien had displayed long with about an inch of the point missing. It was feared that the missing section might be

'Faith and Water' Is New Ulcer Cure

LONDON, (AP) — A London specialist reported in the Lancet Saturday that he has cured some 200 ulcers with nothing but water and assurance.

Citing his experience with a consecutive series of 20 patients, Dr. A. Morton Gill said all but one had been cured of chronic gastric ulcers within one to two months by daily hypodermic injections of distilled water.

The one exception recovered rapidly after false assurances that his ulcer was almost healed, and within a month it disappeared.

"It seems fair," Dr. Gill declared, "to argue that the essential factor is the patient's belief that his treatment is going to be successful."

The entire situation was reviewed by the players at a meeting held Sunday afternoon and they felt their winning chance was good.

Winners against Coleman 6-3 Saturday night at Edmonton, New Method's contenders for the western intermediate championship, laid over in Lethbridge Sunday. The Edmonton team plays the second game at Coleman Monday night. The series is the best of three and if a third game is necessary it will be played on neutral ice at Bellevue.

From the Conservative opposition: Full strength of the Conservative front bench will be directed against the government's failure to take requisite administrative action in advance of the present economic crisis, and its policy of forcing through parliament long-term socialization measures instead of acting to prevent the crisis from arising. At the end of the debate, Winston Churchill will move an amendment expressing no confidence in the government.

From Liberal members: Liberals will present an amendment also condemning the government's failure to warn the nation and to take requisite administrative action in good time. They may attract some Labor support for their attack on the retention of essential manpower in the forces.

Shows Military Cuts

In his meeting with his MP's Monday morning, Attlee was believed to have drawn the attention of party critics to the fact that since the war's end the strength of the forces has been reduced by approximately 50 per cent—from 9,000,000 to 2,000,000—and that the transfer of men to industry would continue until the armed strength is little more than 1,500,000.

There is no doubt that the government, with its overwhelming majority in the house, will weather the opposition. While some Labor back-benchers will criticize the administration during the debate, they will not vote with the opposition when their non-confidence amendments are called.

An important number of Labor back-benchers will call upon the government for an over-all five-year plan to put the country's economy back on its feet.

Lilienthal O.K.'d For Atomic Post

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate atomic energy committee Monday voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the United States atomic energy commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of five others as members of the commission. All the names now go to the senate floor for consideration.

The vote climaxed a five-week hearing that at times was heated with witnesses testifying for and against Lilienthal on charges that he as chairman permitted Communist propaganda in the Tennessee Valley Authority, a power and irrigation project.

Many of those who stood outside, filled the aisles and even sat in the basement, wept openly when he told them he would not change places with "the most popular preacher" or "the highest paid minister" in Canada.

"The church is sick unto death," he said. "It is feeding upon the land and giving little spiritual nourishment in return. It judges its work on the basis of the most worldly judgments."

Laborites Face Grave Test In 3-Day Economic Debate

LONDON, (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee's government faced one of the gravest tests of its political life Monday as it entered a three-day debate on the economic state of the nation.

The basis for the so-called "economic budget debate," is the recently-published white paper, which showed in clear-cut outline that the country has been living beyond its means and that it must produce more and sell more abroad unless its trading ledger is to show progressively more red.

During the debate, which is to be opened by the government's top-flight economic planner, Sir Stafford Cripps, the government will be called upon to present plans to meet the national emergency disclosed in the white paper. In doing so, it will encounter heavy criticisms from three sides.

From its own backbenchers: Approximately 150 members of the Labor party's defence and services group, and trade unions group, will criticize the maintenance of close to 2,000,000 men in the armed services, and a manpower shortage hampers the nation's industrial production. Before the debate opened, Attlee met his parliamentary party for a preliminary session.

From the Conservative opposition: Full strength of the Conservative front bench will be directed against the government's failure to take requisite administrative action in advance of the present economic crisis, and its policy of forcing through parliament long-term socialization measures instead of acting to prevent the crisis from arising. At the end of the debate, Winston Churchill will move an amendment expressing no confidence in the government.

imbedded in one of the two clerics. First to be attacked was Rev. Jacques Brossard, 45, vicar of the St. Louis de France church. Father Brossard was bent by a man who stepped out from the covering of two trees. He was stabbed in the back four times. Hospital authorities said that he had been given blood transfusions and had been placed in an oxygen tent immediately on entry.

A half-hour later and about a half-mile distant, the next attack was carried out on Brother Vincent, a teacher at Laval college and a member of the Mariste Brothers. He suffered a deep back wound and it was reported from the hospital that he had been internally.

His assailant slashed twice with the long knife, shouting: "I missed the other one but I won't miss you."

The knife-wielder jumped out from between two big trees to attack Father Brossard. Horrified onlookers saw him dash furiously at the black-robed priest, with the knife rising and falling rapidly.

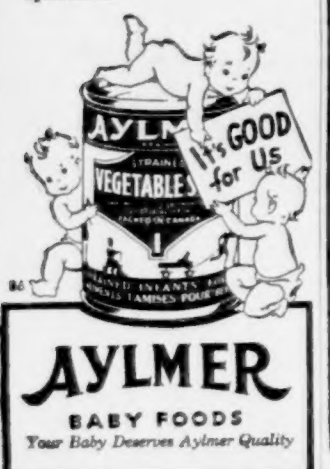

The spectators gave chase as the attacker raced away, eluding pursuit after a brief sprint.

Two youngsters, Jean Guy Gauthier, 16, and Roman Gelinus, 17, were credited by police with playing a major part in the apprehension of the attacker. Capt. Allan said they were witnesses to the attack on Brother Vincent but were afraid to grapple with the knife-wielder. However, they followed him to a restaurant where one took over watching duties while the other called police.

Tells of Efforts Get Rolling Stock

OTTAWA, (CP)—Efforts of the Canadian Pacific Railway to obtain new rolling stock during the war were described before the board of transport commissioners Monday in the freight rate inquiry case.

B. W. Roberts, vice-president in charge of purchases and stores, produced correspondence between the railway and federal government officials dealing with attempts to obtain steel and other materials for the manufacture of equipment. This evidence developed that, in earlier C.P.R. testimony that shortage of equipment—described as "desperate"—would limit the railway's earnings this year.

Mr. Roberts said the letters indicated "we were not free to place orders without government consent." He added this condition held true for the duration of the war.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP)—Sidney A. Main, 70, former secretary of the board of health at Edmonton, died in hospital here Sunday.

Mr. Main came to the coast on his retirement in 1942, living at Victoria for a time before moving to Pitt Meadows, B. C.

Funeral services will be held here Tuesday after which the body will be sent to Edmonton for burial.

Mr. Main started work with the Edmonton board of health in May, 1906, and retired Dec. 31, 1942.

See Early Start On New Leduc Well

Drilling of a third Imperial Oil Limited well in the new Leduc oil field probably will start "within the next few days," No. 2 has been reported by Anglo Canadian Oil Co. Monday as the company's No. 1 well, about eight miles west of Leduc, passed the 6,000 barrels total in test production and the No. 2 well reached 3,762 feet below surface in current drilling work.

Well No. 3, just a short distance from the original well, was about 75 percent rigged Monday. Derrick used on the first well was dismantled and moved to No. 3 and crews should be ready to get drilling started within a few days. No. 2 has about another 1,300 feet to go before production is expected.

Test flow on No. 1 has continued more than three weeks and on a quarter-inch choke it produced 273 barrels Saturday and 275 barrels Sunday. Its three week production exceeded 6,000 barrels.

Efforts by oil firms to locate new potential oil lands have continued actively in Edmonton area since the Leduc strike. One of the newest reservations approved last week was for 138,240 acres of provincial lands near by Anglo Canadian Oil Co. This firm took the reservation in a block north of Vegreville and Mundare.

McColl-Fontenac Oil Co. Ltd. has not announced definite plans since abandonment last week of its discovery well in Wetaskiwin area. Unofficial reports Monday indicated the company would drill two more wildcat wells in the Wetaskiwin-Hobbema area.

British Dress Amuses Russians

By Eddy Gilmore
MOSCOW, (AP)—The British and French delegations to the Moscow foreign ministers conference are causing widespread eyebrow lifting among the Russian people.

The British version of the proper garb for winter wear in the Soviet capital has been the cause of particular amusement. Dressed in uniform brown cloth coats, similar to those usually worn by chauffeurs in Russia, and wearing white hats resembling those of Canadian sheep herders, the Britons look to the Russians like something off the stage of the opera house.

Many Russians are coming to the centre of the city just to get a look at them.

Foreign Secretary Bevin fortunately did not come in the Soviet capital. He was in the city in a dark, conservatively-cut overcoat and Homburg hat—conforming to the general Russian idea of what a British diplomat looks like.

Many in the British delegation and in the British correspondents' group—accustomed to close rationing at home—also have attracted attention of Russian waiters by the hearty appetites with which they attack the generous fare offered by Moscow hotels.

Said one waiter in the Hotel Moskva:

"The food situation in Britain must be worse than anywhere in the world, judging from the way these people eat."

Ptomaine Poison Kills Coast Bride

VANCOUVER, (CP)—A young bride of eight months died Sunday night and her husband is in critical condition in hospital believed to be the result of ptomaine poisoning.

Dead is 17-year-old Ruth Cooperman. Hospital authorities reported the condition of her husband, Jack Cooperman, 28, as "fairly good."

Plight of the young couple was discovered by a brother-in-law, Lloyd Tuttle, who climbed into an open window in their Kitsilano district home when no response like received to a knock on the door.

HIDEKI TOJO IL

TOKYO, (AP)—Hideki Tojo, suffering from a high fever, was rushed back to hospital Monday. The former premier indicted for war crimes was taken to the hospital Thursday and his case was diagnosed as bronchitis. He was returned to Sugamo prison, but his temperature rose again.

Silver and copper coins have almost disappeared from circulation in British Malaya, and it is believed that some are hoarded and many others have been melted down and sold as metal.

Basutos Get Ready To Greet Monarch

ON BOARD THE ROYAL TRAIN, South Africa, (Reuters)—While the train carrying the royal family moved slowly Monday across the high veldt of the Orange Free State, thousands of once-warlike Basutos greeted down steep ravines from the wild country of the Mautli mountains and converged on the plain around Maseru in Basutoland.

About 50,000 natives, many mounted on ponies and wearing large straw or fur hats, will greet His Majesty the King Wednesday at one of the greatest tribal gatherings of all time.

At their head will be the paramount chieftain, Ntsebe Griffiths, senior of the six widows of the late chief and regent for his nephew, King Bechuana.

The royal house of the Basutos took the name of Griffiths many years ago as a compliment to a British colonel who fought gallantly against them.

An Afrikaans-speaking leader of the nationalists at Bloemfontein said that the royal family made "many staunch friends" during their visit.

"We liked their simplicity, we liked the way they entered into the spirit of the 'braveries' (barbecue) without fuss or formality," he added. "Maybe we didn't cheer as loudly as some, but that's our Afrikaner way. I think we all want them to return to Bloemfontein some day."

Princess Elizabeth will broadcast to South Africa and the empire on her 21st birthday April 21.

Claim 3,000 Killed In Formosa Revolt

NANKING, (AP)—The Chinese government's official Central News agency said Monday martial law has been re-established to prevent rebellion in Formosa as Chiang Kai-shek declared his intention to suppress the revolt in that island.

Chiang blamed "Formosans with Communist inclinations and those who served with Japanese expeditionary forces in the Pacific" for fomenting unrest in the island.

A delegation of Formosans came to Nanking to demand self government and to accuse Chiang's administration of killing 3,000 to 4,000 of their countrymen in "a wholesale massacre that put to shame even Japanese cruelty." Chinese sources had reported 500 casualties in the uprising Feb. 28.

Priorities Lifted On Railway Cars

OTTAWA, (CP)—The transport department announced Monday withdrawal of the federal government priority order holding box cars for shipment of export grains and domestic feed.

Rescinding of the order, issued Feb. 14, returned to the railways control over the apportionment of freight cars to industries and agriculture.

Transport Controller B. S. Liberty said it was felt the railways could themselves handle the distribution in "a fair and equitable manner."

Alleged Bandit Seized in Toronto

TORONTO, (CP)—Eight policemen with drawn guns Monday arrested a 26-year-old Toronto man on charges of armed robbery after an intensive search in the St. Clair-Rummymede district of West Toronto, and at the noon hour continued their hunt for a second suspect identified as from Vancouver.

Police reserves were summoned to the area after two holdups in which $1,500 was stolen, about $180 from a bakery and the rest at the Purdy dairy.

Name New Head Of C.N.R. Freight

MONTEAL—The man who had direct charge of the tremendous volume of import and export materials moving over Canadian National Railway's lines during the war years has been named general freight traffic manager of the system. He is John Pullen, Montreal, and succeeds George R. Fairhead, who retired last week.

As head of the foreign freight traffic department from 1942 until his promotion Monday, it was his job to expedite the flow of material to every theatre of war.

Four-Power Parley Opens in Moscow

each apparently believing the other to be seeking control of Germany.

Marshall, arriving by plane Sunday, said he undoubtedly would be "great difficulties" in the Moscow negotiations. He emphasized that "the mission on which I have come is one of tremendous importance and consequence for all mankind." On this point alone, Marshall and the New Times seemed agreed.

The weekly said the conference "will in many ways determine the course of development of international relations in Europe and all the world over."

The magazine then warned the west against "atomic diplomacy" and trying to dictate to the Soviet Union; accused Britain and the United States of violating the Potsdam pact on Germany and labelled as "blackmail" the advocacy of a western policy of firmness toward Russia.

Proposals Lambasted

The New Times lambasted proposals to federalize Germany and demanded unification. Likewise, it renewed demands for reparations which the west opposes. These are among the greatest issues here.

United States press correspondents and radio reporters in Moscow noted that the Soviet Union was living up to a pledge not to censor news of the conference.

The heaviest file of unwarmed stories in modern times was pouring from Moscow to the world. Non-conference news still was being censored.

Three Basic Aims Are Held by Britain

By Ross Munro

MOSCOW, (CP)—Britain is going into the Big Four foreign ministers conference with three basic aims on the German peace treaty—to guarantee firm control of future German foreign exchange, to establish a federalized German state, and to achieve alliances with other big powers for at least 50 years as protection against German aggression.

It is understood Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain strongly believes there should be adequate provision for control for years to come, of German foreign exchange, which contributed greatly in the past to the building up the German war machine, through purchases abroad. This would mean extensive control of German foreign trade which only now is restarting on a small scale under Allied control.

In this connection the question of hidden German foreign exchange still held in South American countries and in Switzerland, about which little has been done.

Bevin also will come out flatly for a federal Germany as opposed to centralization, which Russia backs. By a federal state Britain means something like Canada, Australia or the United States.

The foreign secretary believes this is what the Germans want and also that it is the surest guarantee against revival of German militarism, which he feels is the greatest threat to European peace.

The differences over this issue are likely to lead to lengthy debates and with all the other ticklish problems before them, Britain is reconciled now to the reality that it is going to be possibly two or even three years before the German peace treaty can be formally signed. The treaty may be ready much sooner but establishment of a German government is required before the treaty can be signed.

On the question of alliances for long-range guarantees against Germany, Bevin believes that it is useless to talk in terms of 20 or 30 years and that 50 years is the minimum for such agreements. He is going to press for 50-year alliances on every deal he makes.

Report Offensive Planned in Greece

BELOGRADE, (Reuters)—The official Yugoslav news agency Monday quoted reports from Athens of plans for a mass land, sea and air offensive by Greek regular forces against guerrillas in northern Greece. The agency asserted that fighter planes "many of them received from Britain in the last few days"—were assembled on airfields and that transports were disembarking tanks and troops at northern ports.

Truman Will Ask Loan for Greece

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman will speak to a joint session of congress Wednesday in behalf of a loan to Greece, it was announced Monday.

Leaving an hour and 26 minute conference with the president at the White House, Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Rep. Mich. told reporters:

"The president has discussed with us in great candor the situation involved in connection with the proposed Greek loan."

A figure of $280,000,000 has been discussed as the amount Greece needs from the United States in view of Britain's decision that it cannot go through with commitments it has made to the Greek government.

Jury Is Selected For Boyer Trial

MONTEAL, (CP)—The espionage trial of Dr. Raymond Boyer, wealthy Montreal scientist, was adjourned Monday until Tuesday after a 12-man French-speaking jury was chosen to hear the case in King's bench court.

One interruption marred the brief morning session when a young woman, claiming she had the protection of Prime Minister King and Justice Minister Daile, interrupted the proceedings and asked to be heard.

She said she did not want the judge to be misled during the trial and stated that Dr. Boyer was innocent and that she could prove it. Despite orders to sit down, she continued to speak until escorted from the courtroom by two constables.

South Australia Won by Liberals

ADELAIDE, South Australia, (Reuters)—Tom Playford's Liberal government of South Australia—only non-Labor administration in Australia—in Saturday's elections improved its position by winning an outright majority in the South Australia house of assembly. Members are elected for three years. All ministers were re-elected unopposed.

Government supporters probably will have 22 seats as against 19 previously in a house of 39 seats. Labor lost votes in all seats contested by the Liberals and probably will have 14 seats against 17 previously.

Says Britain Faces Worst Food Crisis

LONDON, (Reuters)—The conservative Daily Mail said Monday that Britain is expected to run into her "worst food crisis since the war ended" during the coming two months.

"By that time there will be an acute scarcity of flour and bread, meat, potatoes and fats of all kinds," the Daily Mail predicted in its main front-page story.

The fresh meat ration would be of inferior quality and was in danger of reduction, the paper added, quoting British butchers.

The food ministry hoped to avoid rationing potatoes, the Daily Mail said, adding that the effort might fail.

But the long, severe winter has made shortages of basic foods certain.

The country had lost more than 1,000,000 sheep in the frost and, according to the National Farmers' union, nearly all autumn-sown wheat—nearly half the normal crop—has been spoiled, the paper said.

Regrets U.S. Note About Hungary

BUDAPEST, (AP)—Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy was quoted by a reliable Hungarian informant Monday as saying that the United States note protesting Russian interference in Hungarian internal affairs was "not very fortunate."

Nagy was quoted as saying: "I am afraid it (the American note) stirred up such political passions that it will aggravate the situation so far as the political crisis is concerned."

First Soviet reaction to the note came during the week-end when Lt.-Gen. V. P. Siviridov vetoed a British-American suggestion that a committee of Allied and Hungarian officials investigate Hungarian politicians accused of plotting against the republic.

One Dies, Four Hurt In U.S. Gas Blast

BLACKWELL, Okla., (AP)—An explosion and fire at a gas company compressor station Sunday night killed one man, injured four others and shut off service to industrial users in two states.

Officials estimated damage at more than $1,000,000.

One of the crew on duty, Ralph McCormick, 38, an oiler, was killed. Buildings housing the booster plant, auxiliary plant, office building and cooling tower were damaged.

Industrial gas users in Kansas and Missouri will be shut off until normal service is restored, probably Tuesday, officials said.

Train Strikes Car, 3 Die in Ontario

IGNACE, Ont., (CP)—Three persons were killed near here Saturday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a C.P.R. train at a level crossing.

Dead are: Clayton Arvo Parker, 26, of Winnipeg and Port Arthur, driver of the car; John Allen Bonnell, and Ronald William Bentley. The latter two were believed to have been hitchhikers.

Mr. Parker was returning to Winnipeg, where his wife resides, after visiting his parents at Port Arthur, when the accident occurred. Ignace is 90 miles west of the Lakehead.

Ontario Seeking Raise $74,000,000

TORONTO, (CP)—Through the third session of the 22nd Ontario legislature is only two days old and still is engaged in routine business, speculation is rife as to tax plans of the government.

This tax talk arises from the throne speech announcement that "because of the refusal of the dominion government to call another dominion-provincial conference," there would be no new agreement with the dominion to replace the wartime tax agreement of 1942 which expires at the end of this month.

The dominion proposals to replace the wartime tax agreement—when Ontario did not accept—called for surrender of personal, corporation and estate taxes to the federal government in return for a guaranteed minimum annual subsidy of $67,158,000 with higher payments determined by the province's contribution to the gross annual product in a given year. The subsidy this year, for example, would have worked out to $73,989,000.

A Queen's Park source said the problem facing the provincial government now is to raise about $74,000,000 to fill this gap in revenue.

One high government source told the Canadian Press the fact Ontario now would have to raise its own revenue "did not necessarily mean double taxation"—a duplication of dominion and provincial taxes.

Damage Is $500,000 In Virginia Fire

DANVILLE, Va., (AP)—A $500,000 fire wiped out six business establishments and damaged seven others in one city block Sunday.

Fighting in sub-freezing weather and a blanket of heavy snow which had fallen Saturday, firemen brought the blaze under control after 15 persons had been routed from a rooming house near the fire and their belongings stacked on the ice-covered street.

LETHBRIDGE, (CP)—Purchase of 11,000 acres of the original "K2" ranch from W. H. McIntyre of Mesa, Utah, was announced Saturday by the Mormon church. The land lies in the Spring Coulee-Woolford area and will be operated in conjunction with the 30,000-acre Cochrane ranch operated by the Mormon church at Mountain View.

The purchase price was not disclosed.

Pay Food Benefits To Striking Miners

GLACE BAY, N. S., (CP)—Scenes reminiscent of the bitter 1925 coal strike were expected in maritime mining towns Monday as miners were scheduled to lineup for strike benefits—first payments on the three-week-old tie-up.

But instead of the box of groceries rationed out on the former occasion, each miner was to receive a grocery order drawn on his own merchant. A single man would receive a $3 order, and a married man $5 with an additional $1 for each child.

There were no signs of let-up in the 80-pit strike as 13,000 miners began their fourth week of idleness with assurances from their union president that, "We will stick it out to the finish. . . We are going to get what we're looking for."

Main demand of the miners is a $1.40 a day basic wage increase from operators, chief of whom is the Dominion Steel and Coal corporation.

Meanwhile, coal supplies from the New Brunswick Minto coal belt to the province's electric power commission's plant were shut off Saturday. Although the 700 Minto miners joined the general walkout three weeks ago, some coal deliveries had been allowed to continue to the generating plant.

Izvestia Again Levels Attack on Kirkconnell

LONDON, (CP)—The Soviet newspaper Izvestia this week again attacked Prof. Watson Kirkconnell, of McMaster university, Hamilton, on the grounds of being a "pro-Fascist" and of "trading in all kinds of fabrications about the Soviet Union."

The head of McMaster's English department, who has sharply criticized Russia from time to time, was linked in the Izvestia article with Randolph Churchill, son of Britain's wartime prime minister, and Beverly Baxter, Canadian-born Conservative member of the British house of commons.

The Izvestia article, as quoted by the Moscow radio said: "Of late Canada has become an arena for lively activities by political and commercial travellers trading in all kinds of fabrications about the Soviet Union. The not-unknown person would hardly have produced the desired effect but on this occasion, the organizers of the lecture and reactionary Catholic church organizations secured an appropriately assorted audience."

HAMILTON, (CP)—Prof. Kirkconnell said he anticipated the "bad-tempered outburst" following his Ottawa speech.

"When I spoke in Ottawa to a packed theatre exposing some of the tyranny of Stalin's regime," he said, "men from the Soviet embassy were in the audience busily taking notes and I rather looked for a trade of Soviet abuse."

The McMaster professor said he was "greatly encouraged by this Soviet attack, which proves that the truth is hurting the Soviet propaganda service in this country."

Asks Life Terms For Drug Addicts

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Constable Harold Price of the R.C.M.P. narcotics squad told a St. John's United church forum here Sunday night that life terms should be the lot of "hopeless" drug addicts.

"Beyond a certain point there is no hope for the addict," he said. "The drug eats through the fatty protection about the brain and the tissue is damaged, lowered moral and ethical standards result."

Despite a rise in price of from 75 cents to $16 per grain, addiction was on the increase. Canada had 4,000 addicts, Vancouver about 200.

Nearly 1,700 touring movie theatres are now serving about 10,000 addicts in France.

London Group Plans Marriage Lectures

LONDON, (Reuters)—Marriage guidance lessons will be held by London county council for the benefit of mixed classes of married and about-to-be-married couples.

The lessons will cover pregnancy, confinement, feeding and the physical and psychological care of children as well as more mundane matters.

Twelve 1½-hour sessions will be held, each costing about one shilling.

The Key Questions

When the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, France and Britain met in Moscow today, this is the program they had before them:

1. Consideration of the report of the Allied control council on Germany dealing with demilitarization, denazification, economic principles, reparations, establishment of a central administration and liquidation of Prussia.
2. Consideration of establishment of a provisional political organization for Germany.
3. Preparation of a peace treaty for Germany.
4. Consideration of the American proposal for a four-power 50-year pact to guarantee German disarmament and demilitarization.
5. Consideration of a report on coal.
6. Consideration of a report on the draft Austrian peace treaty.

This list of subjects for discussion was prepared three months ago. Other items may be added by agreement, which must be unanimous. That the conferees will find either time or inclination to go farther afield is not likely. They will reach decisions on all of these half dozen points in not generally expected. General Marshall, for one, has his doubts about that.

Item 3 is not only the most important. It involves all the others. Even a treaty with Austria cannot be framed without an understanding that Germany will be forbidden to attempt another Anschluss.

The key question therefore is: What is to be done with Germany.

A Penalty of Office

The shock caused by the Attlee government's announcement of a deadline for the completion of India's autonomy was not so much in its weight as in its suddenness. Political parties of every complexion have worked to that end for years.

Substantial progress toward Indian self-government had been made by the time of the Morley-Minto reforms of 1909—under Liberal auspices. Substantially more had been made a decade later when a Constitution was granted to India under the aegis of a Liberal-Conservative coalition. Yet another decade (1929) saw a Conservative government create the Simon Commission on whose report a National government brought down the Government of India Bill. And it was Churchill's coalition which brought along the Cripps plan.

If it were possible, it might be interesting to know what Mr. Attlee and his ministers think privately of the climax they have brought about. Are they secretly apprehensive of the consequences? Do they privately feel it is premature? For while the government has made a brave show of justifying its action, it has made a virtue of necessity. For the fact is that the United Kingdom is so close to bankruptcy that it simply cannot afford to "carry" India any longer.

The alternative is to unload—with hope that the new India may choose to remain within the British "congeries" of nations.

Russia Vetoes Disarmament

It seems that Mr. Gromyko was not talking "by the book" when he said a week ago that Russia would agree to have atomic energy development in its territory "supervised and directed" by an international control body. On Thursday he reversed this position and told the Security Council that Soviet frontiers will not be thrown open to "unlimited" international inspection nor Soviet factories allowed to operate under United Nations control.

The gravity of the latter statement is that it came last. Presumably the Soviet deputy foreign minister had consulted Moscow in the meantime, and found that Premier Stalin had changed his mind, or that Mr. Gromyko would have to change his. The no-inspection declaration is to be taken as final, subject to any modifications which may be implied by the term "unlimited."

If this means what it seems to mean there will be no international control of atomic research, nor of the application of atomic energy anywhere. Other countries will certainly not submit to such control unless the control authority holds equal freedom to exercise powers of inspection in Russia. Moscow understands that and instructed Mr. Gromyko to pronounce the veto with full knowledge of what is involved.

The result is all too plain. Again subject to the possibility of modifications in the pronouncement—the world faces the appalling prospect of every country being free to manufacture atomic bombs or other nuclear weapons, secretly and without limit. And if there is to be no ban on this super-destructive type of weapon, of what use would it be to talk further about general disarmament? No country on earth would disarm if just across the border a mistrusted neighbor could manufacture atomic bombs at will and under cover.

It Could Happen Anywhere

China's financial strong-man lost his bout with inflation. He has resigned his post in the National Government, corresponding to the Premiership in Canada. About two weeks ago he grappled with the price boom that has boosted the cost of living at Chungking to 2,900 times what it was ten years ago, spread starvation across the country, and made China a paradise for black market racketeers. Now he is down and out.

Song thought 1,200 Chinese dollars should be worth one United States dollar. He launched measures timed to lift them to that level—their current rating being somewhere in the still lower depths. Maybe the measures were not too well timed. But they did cause an eruption—and Song was tossed back into private life.

The trouble was that too many influential men and organizations were making profits out of the hunger and misery of the luckless Chinese producers and consumers. They had built up vested interests in nation-wide starvation. Song's regulatory plan threatened their business. They defied the plan and discredited its author—in the point where he had to quit.

Chiang Kai Shek is expected to take over the vacant post, and the task of wrestling with the racketeers. Whether he will do better, time will show. It is doubtful. Because when a country has fallen into so hopeless a mess, with so many powerful men and combinations interested in keeping it in a mess, restoration must seem to most Chinese to be hopeless. Nothing but production can rescue the Chinese from starvation, break the grip of the food pirates, restore its currency to some fixed and worth while value, and create the basic conditions for national recovery. But will a hopeless people set themselves to the job of stepping up production, and can they do it on a scale large enough to succeed? These are the questions Chiang has to face.

For readers in other countries the moral seems plain enough. Uncontrolled inflation becomes in the end uncontrollable. The only way to prevent it starting is to produce the things people must have to live. The only way to check the trend once it gets started, is to produce more of these things. What China needs now and what the individual Chinese needs, is more rice, not more dollars.

Don't Rush the Season

Flu and the variegated ailments classed as "common colds" are rampant in five mid-western states, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Nebraska. A good many schools have been closed, and in a large proportion of others there are more seats vacant than occupied. The university of Missouri has cancelled all student activities except those of the class-rooms. Fifteen thousand students are at home in bed who would ordinarily be at their desks in St. Louis schools.

All this builds up to a warning to people in Edmonton and everywhere else not to try to "rush" the spring season. Prolonged and uniformly cold weather has put everyone in a mood to shed winter wraps at the first sign of milder airs. There is practical unanimity, here and elsewhere, on the idea that we have had enough "invigorating" and are prepared to endure the softening influences of spring.

But it won't do to mistake assumptions for facts, put too much faith in traditions and the calendar, or take for granted that an easing up of frigidities is the signal for donning spring clothes and otherwise taking liberties with the climate.

The cemeteries are full of people who made these mistakes in other years. And the hospitals in five states are full of people who repeated the mistakes this year. Those who want to go on living and enjoying good health can profit from their experience.

The Undercover Attack

Mr. Norman Lockhart, Conservative member for Lincoln, Ontario, wants the Government to fire all the young men on the staff of the Prices and Trade Board and send them into the bush to cut logs.

One difficulty of applying the advice is that they wouldn't go. And, if the Lincoln member is right as to their background of training and experience, the clerical loggers wouldn't be of any use in the bush if they were made to go.

As a way to speed up the production of lumber, the scheme just would not work. Recruits for the logging camps will have to be sought somewhere else than in the ranks of young men who only know how to run typewriters and use lead pencils.

There was no serious intent, of course, that this proposal should be acted on. What Mr. Lockhart was saying in this picturesque way was that he thought the Prices and Trade Board should be abolished, and the lumbermen left to charge what they pleased for so much lumber as they saw fit to supply Canadian consumers. It is significant that he did not venture to say this in plain language. The consumers were listening.

An Eastern man was married while awaiting trial. From one trial to another.

THE TIMID SOUL

U.S. Bid to Britain

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia suggests that there is a way out of the present British crisis:

Let England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales apply for admission into the U.S.A.

This comes on the heels of another announcement that Mr. Bevin will keep British troops in Greece indefinitely—provided the Americans pay for their upkeep!

These items seem to confirm with uncanny force the prediction made in 1943 by our former Canadian Ambassador to Washington, W. D. Herridge wrote, in his remarkable book "Which Kind of Revolution?" (Little Brown), that in the coming struggle between American capitalism and Soviet Communism Britain would be in danger of being swallowed up.

"When American imperialism builds an anti-communist front it will not force units of the British Empire into places of subordination. It will not have to. Should the British Empire make itself party to such a plan it will lose its freedom. There is no hope for the British Empire except as a democracy that really works."

Herridge warned of the supreme folly of the very thing the western democracies are now doing—prostituting their democratic principles by proping up reactionary regimes such as the Greek king's, which could not last six months without outside military support.

I DO NOT agree with Mr. Herridge on the inevitable viciousness of a merger of the United States and the free parts of the British Commonwealth.

World federation is plainly coming one way or another. There are two roads toward it.

One road would be what you might call "a few nations in for everything."

The other road would be "all nations in for a little."

If we formed the first kind of a federation the U.S.A. and all self-governing nations of the British Empire would pool their defence, foreign affairs, money, tariff, administrations.

On the second basis we could include every nation in the world, but giving to the world parliament authority over a very little, namely, ways and means of preventing attack from any nation.

But there is a very simple rule whereby to judge all such proposals today.

Do they lead towards or away from that World War Three? Do they make for better or worse relations with Russia?

No move toward world reorganization is good unless by its very nature it can grow by peaceful steps to take all humanity on a basis of equality.

I BELIEVE that as time goes on it will become more and more clear that Britain's position is desperate. She will never be able to retain her old place and her old prosperity, for the factors on which they were built have been destroyed.

There are only three ways that I can see whereby Britain can continue to support anything like her present population.

1. She could join the U.S.A.

2. She could join a genuine United Europe—naturally including Russia.

3. She could make large scale barter deals and socialize her own vast empire.

THE MAIN obstacle to the first course is pride—I simply cannot see England giving up her king, her flag, and so on, to become just another state—even though that would be the quickest, easiest way out of her difficulties.

The second course offers even greater difficulties—for any talk of a United Europe which does not include Russia would be as false a remedy as it would be in geography and political fact. But to merge all Europe would now be harder than to merge the great English-speaking nations.

That is why it seems to me—regardless of the ban against such deals in the American loan—Britain will be compelled to make large-scale barter deals with Canada, Russia and any other country that has the food and raw materials she needs, and which will agree to take payment for same over long terms in goods and services.

Codifying Civil Rights—II

BY J. H. GRAY

Ottawa: If a bill of rights is desired by Canadians, how do they go about getting one?

There is no simple answer to this question. Eminent constitutional lawyers are likely to find themselves in disagreement on ways and means even when they grant the wisdom of trying to enact a bill of rights into statute law.

It is conceded now, generally, that a Canadian constitution can be amended by a simple majority of parliament—the House of Commons and the Senate. A request from the Canadian parliament for the amendment to the British North America Act would get automatic approval at Westminster.

Certainly if a bill of rights is to be an effective safeguard of the rights of Canadian citizens it must be enacted as an amendment to the BNA Act. A bill of rights might be introduced into parliament and passed by an overwhelming majority. But an act of one parliament can be rescinded by the next parliament.

WITHOUT AN amendment to the BNA Act, however, parliament would not enact a bill of rights that would have any effect in the provinces if the bill of rights came into conflict with section 92 of the BNA Act. Under section 92, provincial legislatures are charged exclusively with legislating on property and civil rights within the provinces.

It would be possible, indeed it would be completely acceptable to the overwhelming majority of Canadians, for parliament to grant the franchise in all federal elections to all Canadians. There is no justification whatever for Canadians of oriental ancestry being barred from voting by the racial laws of British Columbia. But it is not within the power of parliament to pass a law to compel British Columbia to repeal its provincial racial laws. That might be done by a comprehensive bill of rights written into the BNA Act but not otherwise.

WHY NOT then have parliament pass a law amending the BNA Act to include such a bill of rights, a bill that would guarantee such things as habeas corpus, universal suffrage, free speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly to the Canadian people?

There are two difficulties. One is practical politics. The other is the problem of drafting a bill of rights that may be practically applied. On the political side there are some considerations which can hardly be ignored.

For a bill of rights to be effective it must not impinge on provincial jurisdiction. It might be that every province in Canada would support an application for amendment to the BNA Act incorporating a bill of rights which would do that. But this, surely, would be hazardous to the provinces. The chances are that the better, the more inclusive, the bill of rights the more opposition it would stir up in the provinces, or at least in some of the provinces.

ANYONE WHO knows the elemental facts of political life in Canada understands that a Canadian government would hesitate long and seriously before asking for an amendment to the BNA Act which the provinces would oppose. If a referendum were taken of the people, and if an overwhelming majority voted in favor of having a bill of rights, the picture might or might not be different. At the moment it is hardly likely, with so much agitation now being directed against the federal government by "provincial rights" that the government would seek to fan the fire by attempting an amendment of the constitution.

Perhaps something might be accomplished by approaching the whole question from a provincial point of view. If, for example, a real bill of rights could be worked out by some province it might serve as a model for others, or at least as a topic of continual discussion.

THE DIFFICULTY here is that those provinces which have the poorest record on civil liberties would likely do the least.

In the nature of things that would be the logical expectation. Nor would the provinces which have gone farthest in setting up self-governing guilds and semi-judicial regulatory bodies be expected to lead a movement for their abolition.

Perhaps, as Canadian citizenship had at last been achieved, some general statement of a bill of rights as a goal toward which all Canadians should work might be included in our citizenship ceremonies.

Trouble in China

Montreal Star

As if the real danger of large-scale civil war between the government and the Communists were not trouble enough, China appears to be running into a period of "printing press" inflation of the sort that leaves prices without meaning, and turns paper money into so much waste paper. Germany after the Great War and Hungary in recent months went through the same experience, and newspaper readers are familiar with the fantastic things which happen in such circumstances.

Without in any way glossing over China's misfortune, it may be said that the proportion of her population affected by such disastrous inflation is considerably smaller than that in almost any western country. Great numbers of her people live on a bare subsistence level and paper currency plays little part in their affairs.

Bends Light

Kitchener Record

A new building in St. Louis is to have glass panes that will bend the rays of the sun to the ceiling and prevent light glares. If this can be made to work on a building, why couldn't the same principle be applied to windshields and do away with the sun glare that too frequently blinds the drivers?

Probably it could also be applied to diverting the rays of full beam headlights from the eyes of the oncoming driver. At least the possibilities seem to be there.

Keeping the Record

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

Nobody in his right mind would suggest that we should have a full-scale "Hansard" for the Alberta legislature like they have for the House of Commons. Not only would it result in an inexcusable waste of public funds, but it would also encourage members to do a lot more talking than they do at present and this would result in the waste of a lot of people's time. However, it becomes clearer each passing session that there should be some official record kept of the proceedings.

As there is no record from which a check-up can be made any member of the legislature can deny that he ever made any statement which may be attributed to him—and the rules of the house are such that if a member denies making a statement it cannot be further debated or denied. This offers each and every one of us an easy way out should anybody suggest that at one time or another we said something which we now wish we hadn't.

FAR MORE serious than this is the fact that anybody can accuse us of having said anything they want people to believe we may have said. Anybody with experience in public life knows that there are always people who are willing to believe anything they are told about any public figure. And once the accusation is made, whether it be a deliberate falsehood or ordinary misunderstanding, not even the most vehement denial is going to convince some people that the accusation isn't true. In fact the more vehement the denial the more people will be inclined to believe the charge.

Therefore it seems to be in the best interests of all concerned that a record of proceedings should be kept. Not only would this preclude the possibility of members denying having made statements they may have forgotten saying, but more important still, it would prevent them from being accused of making statements which they did not make.

Recently in the house we had a rather childish exhibition of members playing the old game "You did," "I didn't," which did not reflect very favorably on anybody. As a matter of fact the question under discussion was of very little actual importance. But by the time the discussion was finished it was obvious that somebody was, shall we say, a stranger to the truth. Because there is no record there is no way of knowing just which one was right in his description of the other. This could be important because a person who would lie in little things might exhibit the same characteristics in big-

DEVOTION TO DUTY
Editor, Bulletin—In spite of the swelling chorus of protests by those who profess so much concern about the preservation of our civil liberties, it should be obvious that what some, at least, want is the liberty to destroy all liberty.

In Churchill's words: "The method of enforcement is as much a part of the communist faith as the doctrine itself. At first the time-honored principles of liberalism and democracy invoked to shelter the infant organism . . . Then when the time is ripe and the moment opportune the clock will be stormed under the banners of liberty and democracy, when all opposition, all contrary opinions must be extinguished by death. Democracy is but a tool to be used and afterwards broken, liberty but a sentimental folly unworthy of the logician. To be forewarned is to be forearmed."

Never, by any chance, do these self-appointed defenders of civil liberties extend any credit, still less appreciation to Gouzenko, the RCMP the Department of Justice, or the espionage commission for having exposed and convicted a number of well paid, but dishonest, treacherous public servants.

Suppose Gouzenko had not supplied the documentary proof, or that the RCMP or the Department of Justice had refused to act. Obviously the dishonest servants still would be busy demoralizing the public service for the benefit of a foreign country in which liberty has ceased to exist. In that case, would our own liberties be safer than they are today?

No honest Canadian need fear the RCMP, but we all have reason to fear the Communist plots against established law and order.

No doubt many spies have escaped the net, for the time being at least. Under Scottish law courts can render a verdict of "guilty but not proven," and this ancient custom has not impaired the liberties of the Scottish people.

Let us be thankful that our espionage evil has been exposed and that some of the spies have been brought to justice. Let us hope and pray that Canada will be as well protected in the future as in the past, by police-men whose faithful devotion to duty has earned for them world wide recognition and admiration.

TO CHECK DECAY

Editor, Bulletin—For the past one hundred years Canada has been saved the expense of a standing army and its equipment through our relation to the British Empire. The British fleet has stood for our defence at a yearly expense of over $90 millions, paid by the British taxpayers and not by us.

Had we not this protection what would have been our fate and that of the whole world in the First Great War? Or even in the last war?

If for the past one hundred years Canada's young men had been taken out of the various Canadian industries to train for their army would our national progress, financially or educationally, or moral standards, be what they are today? And where would be the measure of individual freedom of the world? Certainly there would be no possibility of labor organizations.

In spite of this slander of the British Empire, it is not a fact, that this Empire has stood firmly and continuously for the best interests of humanity? And at a cost of billions of British dollars and millions of the lives of its citizens in this cause?

Is it not true that in and following the time of Napoleon the British government paid out of its taxpayers money for wiping out the abominable slave trade the total of over $400 millions. They paid to Portugal $300,000 and to Spain $400,000 to induce them to give up the slave trade. And they paid to the West Indies and Mauritius $20,000,000 for this same purpose.

Why have we the freedom of the sea lanes throughout the world in the interest of all humanity? It is not largely through the power and influence of the British Empire? Is it too much to say that the interest of all humanity is involved in the continuance of the unity and power of the British Empire as a great world unit?

Is it too much to suggest that we individuals and as a nation do something at least to help in this situation? And at once? As a suggestion we could at least open a national fund for personal or business firm contributions for this purpose of not less than $2 and as much more as the person wished and the business firms likewise? This might develop into a colonial movement and result in something worth while and give the loyal and intelligent citizens who know the facts an outlet for their desire to help.

PHILPOTT ON PALESTINE
Editor, Bulletin—Of all the bald-faced tripe that has currently received publication the article "Palestine Choice," Bulletin—March 5th, takes the unquestioned blue ribbon.

After several fancy generalizations, Mr. Philpott launches his discussion on "practical politics" by outlining two of his classical "if" programs concerning which we are to presume that the Palestine Jews will toss a coin to decide which is preferable. Yet, all the events of past months indicate clearly that both Jews and Arabs would be decidedly hostile to his solutions.

It is good to notice that Mr. Philpott is aware that there may be a little shooting "if—the British get out." The openly murderous activities that are now manifest between Jews and Arabs even with control forces present, leave no doubt as to the wholesale massacres that would follow immediate evacuation of British forces. Humane and intelligent citizens would hardly care to be held responsible.

Mr. Philpott apparently delights in being glib and witty as he shuffles armies of occupation around, but closer adherence to facts is better journalism.

As a Bulletin reader, I, for one, would much rather see such space occupied by material from The Bulletin's own staff, for the remainder of the paper shows that they are capable of a higher standard of reporting and editorial comment.

RENT INCREASE
Editor, Bulletin—Would like you to print a letter of protest against the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, regarding over 25 per cent increase in our rent. I did not know they could increase the rents on unfurnished houses, such as this that has not had a cent spent on it for years excepting what we have done ourselves, but it seems they do just as they please despite what we are told they cannot do.</

Aleutian Mud Proves Formidable Foe In United States Army's Winter Manoeuvres

Two heavy tractors sink deeply in the mud as they attempt to move a heavy 155-mm. gun which bogged down on Adak Island in the Aleutian chain, where the U.S. army's task force Williams was conducting exhaustive winter tests and manoeuvres.

Britain Takes Steps to Curb Spread of Divorce Evils

LONDON, (NANA) — It's wonderful what a paternal government will do. Here the government takes time out to publish an official white paper, pompously styled
 "Final Report of the committee on Procedure in Matrimonial Cases."

In plain English the white paper advises people how they can be happy, though married, and how they can avoid that modern evil, divorce.

The committee is well fitted to the task of examining the situation, for it is composed of men and women in all walks of life — all of notably wide experience in guiding and leading others — headed by Justice Denning, a leading divorce court judge in this country.

Recommendations fall into four main parts: reconciliation, children and divorce, alimony and maintenance, and further procedural reforms.

Reconciliation Base
 Reconciliation is the cornerstone upon which the proposed reforms are to be built. On this point the committee agrees: "The reconciliation of estranged parties to marriages is of the utmost importance to the state as well as to the parties and their children. It is indeed so important that the state itself should do all it can to assist reconciliation."

How the state proposes to achieve this reconciliation is by the establishment of a marriage welfare service, which will afford help and guidance in preparation for, and in difficulties after, marriage. "It should be sponsored by the state, but should not be a state institution." This is a most important point, for it cuts the ground from under the critics who vociferate that marriage is a matter for the persons concerned, and that the state should keep its hands off the family.

The declared aims of the proposed new government marriage welfare service are:

First — To make available a sufficient number of suitable persons to give advice and to see that their availability is generally known.

Second — To encourage young people to seek competent advice in preparation for marriage.

Third — To encourage married couples to seek competent advice as soon as serious conflicts arise.

Fourth — To attempt reconciliation whenever a break has occured.

The general summing up of the committee with regard to the tragic problem of the children of divorce is:

"If the jurisdiction of the divorce court in respect of the custody of children is to be reformed, the procedure should be reformed.
 It should be recognized that parents who have been, or are about to be, divorced have no absolute right to determine the future of their children. They have disabled themselves from fulfilling their joint responsibility and have created a new situation in which the interests of the children need consideration apart from those of the parents."

U.S. Bread Prices Soar 1 to 3 Cents

CHICAGO, (AP)—Soaring wheat prices struck United States consumers Monday. A survey showed bread has been raised from a cent to three cents a loaf in many principal cities as wheat at major grain terminals brought the highest prices since 1929.

An Atlanta grocery concern announced the sharpest advance reported a three-cent cent to 17 cents for a 24-ounce loaf. In New York,
 Pittsburgh, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Mich., Cleveland, Indianapolis, Ind. and Los Angeles, the consumers have been tagged for a cent or two more on each loaf.

A bakery spokesman at Minneapolis warned consumers there to brace themselves for a one-cent boost, which he said, would cover only a small portion of increased costs.

"In Canada the wheat board raised its price of wheat for export to countries other than Britain five cents a bushel, effective Monday.
 The new price is $2.80 a bushel, highest since September, 1929."

3 Fatally Burned In Indiana Fire

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—An early morning fire killed three men Sunday in a rooming house. Deputy Coroner Henry L. Stevens said all three died of burns.

The victims were John Moore, 45, former army sergeant who retired recently after 20 years' service;
 Ralph De Hoff, 28, and Bernard
 Galion, 42.

Charlie Turner Sets Pace in Bowling Test

Charlie Turner, consistent Edmonton trundler, found the alley to his liking Saturday afternoon and when the firing had ceased for the day in the Edmonton Five Pin Bowling Association tournament, he was perched at the top of the "A" singles with a fine 819.

The event got underway at 1 o'clock, with Mayor Harry Ainlay chucking the first ball. The popular event drew an entry of more than 2,100, including many from outside points.

MORRIS SCHOFIELD spread the maples for 815 to gain second place, while Alice Johnston headed the ladies with 800. Betty Gilbertson is in second spot with 764.

Some of the best bowling of the day took place in the team matches. Rolling in the "A" team event Presty Griffen marked up a 945 tally with scores of 323, 318, 302. Presty is a member of the Screwballs, who are at the top of their section at the moment with 1389. Other members of the team are Isobel Giffen, May Smith, Winnie Rutherford and Jim Rutherford.

RALPH JONES had the distinction of trundling the highest game of the day, a very respectable 758.

Setting the pace in the other events are: A doubles, Ford - Giffen 1544; B singles, Noonan 774; B doubles, Whitley-Tymko 1373; B teams, Car Shops 3347; C singles, A. Purches 609; C teams, Spark Plugs 2731; mixed doubles, Giffen, 1415; mixed teams, Big Sholars 3343; ladies boosted teams, Rolling Pins 2601.

The tournament will continue all this week, with most of the outside entries getting into action Friday and Saturday.

Edmonton Loses In Third Game By 4-1 Score

BY HAL DEAN

Edmonton Bulletin sports Editor

LETHBRIDGE, March 10.—Edmonton Flyers might have won Saturday night's game, but Lethbridge Maple Leafs marked up a 4-1 victory and today enjoy a two-to-one lead in the best-of-five semi-final series. The crowd was only around 2,500. Fourth game of the series will be played to-night.

TURNING POINT in the game undoubtedly was the first period penalty to Young who boarded Fisher with Kreller already off for tripping. A six-to-four edge player-strength gave their first real opportunity and they promptly turned on the power, Hall eventually scoring.

Flyers had it all over the Leafs in the first part of the game and were on top just after the half-way mark in the third, but Lethbridge enjoyed a margin in the second.

Both teams had 11 shots in goal in the first period, Leafs having an 8-5 advantage in the second and 12-7 edge in the third. Aside from Sotak, Stanley and Solinger were the pick of the Edmonton sextet.

JOHNNIE SOTAK, young Canadian junior goalie, easily was the star of the night. He didn't have much to do in the early minutes and in fact had only two shots to deal with in the first half of the period. He made another save just before Kreller was banished, but soon became the busiest man in the arena.

With Young also in the cooler, giving Lethbridge a two-man advantage, Leafs swarmed all over Sotak. Kreller was back when Hall scored from about 15 feet on a puck passed which Solinger should have cleared, but Sotak had kicked out eight successive shots in about three minutes before the ninth got past him. Johnny was terrific and had the fans goggle-eyed.

UP TO THE TIME Kreller was sent off for interference with Fisher, Flyers had been much the better club. They had scored in nine shots to the three the Leafs had on the Edmonton goal and easily could have two or three goals up. Maher got through immediately after the first change of lines and Brennan barely got his hand on a drive from Solinger seconds later. Later, Smitten missed what looked to be a cinch goal when he shot wide after wheeling in, from the left.

Flyers also passed up a good opportunity when Luke was penalized for playing with a broken stick. Merluk almost scored right at the face-off which followed and Brennan made a nice save from Watt. A three-man passing play with Maher, Thomas and Newsome taking part, also just failed to produce.

LEAFS OUTPLAYED Flyers in the early part of the second period, but were lucky on their second goal scored at 5:06. McCaine got possession of the puck just inside the blue line and backhanded a high looper. Barker might have blocked it, but moved so the goalie would have clear vision and Sotak never even saw the puck until it was in the net.

Neither club was able to capitalize on second period penalties. Kreller was given time for tripping and McCaine soon joined him for high-sticking Pringle. The Flyers were at full strength when they got their first goal at 14:35. Merluk put the puck in but Stanley, who turned in one of his best games of the year set up the goal, battling his way through the defence and finally getting a pass over to Merluk.

THE TWO CLUBS were both short-handed just after the goal. Young and Hall being thrust into for roughing. Kreller, who had served very few minutes in the penalty box all season, was off three times in Saturday's game, his third banishment for tripping Matwell coming just before the end of the second period and he was still in when the final session began.

Leafs had an edge during the third period and Sotak made a pair of good saves immediately before Love scored in 41 seconds with the goalie lying on the ice and not having a chance to make the save.

Sotak made a remarkable save shortly before the final Lethbridge goal. Harrison right in front of Watt and went right in, but Johnny beat him and drew a big hand from the crowd.

Fisher scored the last goal at 17:40.

THE LEAF WINGER was loafing in the clear inside the Edmonton area and when Gray got the puck over to his team-mate, all Joe had to do was skate in. Sotak blocked Fisher's attempt on his left, but the experienced winger finally got the puck in on the other side.

EDMONTON—Sotak, Young, Solinger, Kreller, Pringle, Stanley, Sotak, Barker, Watt, Thomas, Maher, Newsome, Smitten, Merluk.

LETHBRIDGE—Brennan, Van Daele, Luke, Love, Fisher, Harrison, Sotak, Gray, McCaine, Latoski, Hall, Menzies, Rinkard, Maxwell, Dancy, Cox and Al Pudas of Port Arthur.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Lethbridge, Hall, 10:04. Penalties—Luke, Kreller, Sotak. SECOND PERIOD: 2—Lethbridge, McCaine 5:06. 3—Edmonton, Merluk (Stanley) 14:35. Penalties—Kreller (2) McCaine, Young, Hall. THIRD PERIOD: 4—Lethbridge, Love (Van Daele) 41. 5—Lethbridge, Fisher (Gray) 17:40. Penalties—Solinger, Luke.

NEW METHOD STARS: When Edmonton's New Method hockeyists turned back Coleman Grands 6-3 at the Arena Saturday night in the first game of the provincial final, Billy Dawe, winger who scored twice, received a couple of minor cuts about the face. Shown above "admiring" Bill's patches

New Method Leads Intermediate Series

Edmonton's New Method puck-chasers took a big step towards capturing the Alberta intermediate hockey championship Saturday night when they took the opening game of the best of three finals at the Arena by turning back Coleman Grands 6-3.

The series is scheduled to resume at Coleman tonight and if a third game is necessary, it will probably be played at Bellevue.

Wide spread scoring punth brought victory to the Louis Holmes pucksters who were not pressed a great deal after they took the lead for good in the second frame.

NINE PLAYERS, headed by Bill Dave who scored twice and Harry Allen tallied one and made the Coleman team back before the period ended, entered the scoring summary for the winners. Lou Warring, Benny Klingson and Marsh Darling were the other goal-getters for New Method.

Coleman opened the scoring early in the first period when Kryczka beat goalie Bill McLennan from close range, but Dave came back for New Method to rifle in two in a row to give the northern camp the lead. Coleman came back before the period ended, however, to tie it up with Fraser finishing off a play with Mossell.

LOU WARRING PUT New Method ahead again at the 8:35 mark of the second when he fired the puck into the open side of the net. George Stuart had drilled the puck from the blue line during an Edmonton power-play and Allen deflected it across the goalmouth to Warring.

HARRY ALLEN put the New Method two up shortly afterwards when he picked up a pass at centre with just one defenceman back. He went around the lone rearguard and slid the rubber into the net in easy fashion. Fraser cut the margin to 4-3 before the period ended when he fired a shot through a mass of players into the net.

The homesters staved off a determined effort to deadlock the game in the third and then had things pretty well their own way to drive home two more with out reply. Klingson got New Method's first third period tally and then Darling got a breakthrough from the Coleman blue line on a pass from Stan Morgan and went in to score.

COLEMAN: Pow, Joyce, Mossell, Fraser, Kryczka, Rowland, Sotak, Antonenko, Cytko, Birgman, Krasine, Pavina, Roughead, Andrew, Kwanine. EDMONTON: McLennan, Stuart, Ryan, Allen, Warring, Dave, Subj, Holmes, Darling, Morgan, Klingson, Heron, Wetheropson, Coleman, and Bill Rungie, Edmonton.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Coleman, Kryczka 5:24. 2—Edmonton, Dave (Allen) 6:33. 3—Edmonton, Dave (Warring) 13:21. 4—Coleman, Fraser (Mossell) 13:45. Penalties—none.

SECOND PERIOD: 5—Edmonton, Warring (Allen, Stuart) 8:15. 6—Edmonton, Allen (Heron) 11:29. 7—Coleman, Fraser (Kryczka) 17:37. Penalties—Joyce.

THIRD PERIOD: 8—Edmonton, Kwanine (Heron) 11:33. 9—Edmonton, Darling (Holmes, Morgan) 17:53. Penalties—Kwanine.

On Trust Takes Santa Anita Derby

ARCADIA, Calif., March 10.—(AP)—On Trust captured the 10th running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, Saturday, in a convincing victory over 12 other rival three-year-olds, before 60,000 fans.

Drawing the curtain on the Santa Anita winter meeting, the California-bred chestnut colt finished the 1 1/4-mile grind three-quarters of a length in front of W. L. Sickie, with Tropical Sea a surprise third, and the favored Steppather, an entry with W. L. Sickie, fourth.

left, but the experienced winger finally got the puck in on the other side.

LETHBRIDGE—Brennan, Van Daele, Luke, Love, Fisher, Harrison, Sotak, Gray, McCaine, Latoski, Hall, Menzies, Rinkard, Maxwell, Dancy, Cox and Al Pudas of Port Arthur.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Lethbridge, Hall, 10:04. Penalties—Luke, Kreller, Sotak. SECOND PERIOD: 2—Lethbridge, McCaine 5:06. 3—Edmonton, Merluk (Stanley) 14:35. Penalties—Kreller (2) McCaine, Young, Hall. THIRD PERIOD: 4—Lethbridge, Love (Van Daele) 41. 5—Lethbridge, Fisher (Gray) 17:40. Penalties—Solinger, Luke.

Leaf Juveniles Cop North Title

Edmonton Maple Leafs captured the Northern Alberta juvenile hockey crown here Saturday night when they defeated the Lacombe sextet, one of the best clubs to represent Lacombe in recent years, 6-2 Saturday night.

The Lacombe juveniles had won the first game of the home and home, total-goal series 5-4, but couldn't stop the Leafs here Saturday.

Ron Phillips paced the winners by turning the hat trick with three goals while Jimmy Stewart, Kay Strate and goalie Eric Patterson also turned in sparkling performances.

ESCOE TO LEAVE TORONTO TUESDAY
TORONTO, March 10. (CP)—Vern Escoe, Toronto's Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, has been matched with Gordon Grayson, of Victoria, B.C., Western Canada heavyweight titleholder, in a bout at Edmonton, Alta., March 18.

Escoe and his manager, Jimmy Jones, leave here Tuesday for the west where Vern will complete training for the fight. The young Toronto negro won an easy victory over Arnold Hayes of Montreal in Toronto a few weeks ago.

Grayson, a member of the Royal Canadian Navy, was the winner of several west coast golden gloves tournaments.

Proceeds of the fight go to the RCAF's hospital and war fund.

Golden Bears Sweep Into Basketball Final

Jim Macrae and Bill Rich, a couple of "Varsity" sharpshooters, led the Golden Bears to a 57-47 win over Calgary's Detroit Bears at the University Drill Hall Saturday afternoon, and walked away with the Northern Alberta senior men's basketball title.

The Golden Bears, who won the first of the two-game, total-point series on Friday 50-44, will meet Raymond or Magrath in a similar series for the Alberta championship on Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

MACRAE SPARKED the University attack with 14 points and played an outstanding checking game, while Rich was only one basket behind. Bill Burrows again paced the Calgarys with 11, and Harry Bullen, who couldn't locate the hoop in the first test, was next with 10.

The students set a hectic pace in the first two quarters in an effort to protect their six-point lead from the previous day and outscored the Southerners 11-8 and 18-8, but the visitors had a slight edge in the last half, shading their hosts 15-14 and 16-14.

NEITHER TEAM produced a dazzling type of basketball and most of the thrills came in the last half when the Calgarys made a desperate bid for the crown. They put forth their best effort in the last quarter, but the University sextet nullified their efforts by putting on a scoring spree of their own when the necessity arose.

Calgary's long passing game appeared to be its chief downfall, for invariably a Golden Bear would dart in and intercept one of the long loops.

Coach Martin Allred and Harry Bullen of the defeated Calgarys.

Calgary Ousts Saskatoon Elks

Saskatoon, March 10. (CP)—Calgary Stampede, 1946 Allan Cup champions, rode into the Western Canada Senior Hockey League final here Saturday night with a 7-4 victory over Saskatoon Elks. It was the third straight win in the best-of-five semi-final series for the Stampede who took the first two games on home ice 7-3 and 12-2.

They now await the winner of the Lethbridge-Edmonton semi-final series for further activity in the western playoffs.

UNLIKE THE previous two semi-final games, Stampede had some difficulty in subduing the scrappy Elks Saturday. The Allan cup champions, well throttled and sometimes outplayed, trailed 3-1 at the end of the first period and twice still have had Saskatoon to contend with had it not been for a clear breakaway after 10 minutes of the second period.

Nursing their 3-1 lead Elks played it cozy for the first half of the second period—then suffered a lapse. The antlered crew burst forth seeking more goals. That was disastrous as it turned out.

FIVE ELKS WERE trapped back of the Calgary blue line as Archie Wilder shuffled a pass into the neutral zone to give Ken Hunter and Bob Brownridge a clear breakaway. Hunter and Brownridge seized the opportunity in a flash and swept in on the unprotected Bud Simpson, Saskatoon goalie. Using Brownridge as a decoy, Hunter had no trouble scoring. That made the score 3-2, and seemed to give Stampede the necessary lift to go on to victory.

Before Elks could slow up the rampaging Calgarys, the cowboys had taken a 5-2 lead. Brownridge cut this to 5-4 before the second period ended, but in the last period Stampede scored twice.

PRIOR TO THE START of the game Ken (Red) Hunter, the Gordon efficiency medal winner and also the western Canada hockey league scoring champion, was presented with the Turnbull trophy, award for the 1946-47 scoring title. To this fine gesture Hunter responded with the game's top point-making performance. He led Stampede in the victory with three assists and one goal and was also selected as the night's first star by Art Rice-Jones, ahead of team-mate Bunny Dame and young Cy Rouse of the Elks.

CALGARY — R. Dettell, Shekoff, Michalak, Gurnea, Desmarre, Dame, Subj, Hunter, Brownridge, Craddock, Wilder, Duchak, French.

SASKATOON—Simpson: W. Dettell, Dutchak, Brennan, Rouse, Fern, Sule, Shabag, Klein, Livingstone, Richardson, McIntyre, Buttrey, Hulme.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Calgary, Dame (Cairns) 3:25. 2—Saskatoon, Rouse (Fern) 12:36. 3—Saskatoon, Brennan (Rouse, Fern) 25:34. Penalties—none.

SECOND PERIOD: 4—Calgary, Hunter (Wilder) 10:25. 5—Calgary, Brownridge (Grant, Hunter) 11:03. 7—Calgary, Dame (Wilder) 13:47. 8—Calgary, French (Shogkist) 15:42. 9—Saskatoon, Klein (Shabag, Livingstone) 17:09. Penalties—none.

THIRD PERIOD: 10—Calgary, Grant (Cairns, Dame) 19:45. Penalty—Hunter. 11—Calgary, Desmarre, Michalak. 12—Calgary, Desmarre.

U.S. Skaters Defend Crowns

BERKELEY, Calif., March 10.—(AP)—For United States figure skating champions, Gretchen Merrill, Boston, and Dick Burton, Englewood, N.J., successfully defended their senior women's and men's titles during three days of competition ending Saturday night at the Iceland rink here.

The North American figure skating championship at Ottawa, two weeks hence will be next scene for the pair with the defending North American champion, Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, and Miss Merrill, from the skating club of Boston.

Miss Scott defeated Miss Merrill in the last North America women's competition in 1945 and last month won the world's women's title at Stockholm.

CALGARY MIDGETS In Alberta Final
LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 10. —(CP)—Calgary Elks took a six-goal lead over Lethbridge Native Sons in their Alberta midget hockey semi-final series here Sunday, with a decisive 10-4 victory over the Lethbridge club. The winner of this series will meet the Edmonton and district winner for the Alberta crown presently held by the Sons.

SERVO ABDICATED the throne soon after because of a nose injury, but recently announced that he intended to stage a comeback. ## RANGERS, WINGS SUFFER DEFEATS

NEW YORK, March 10 (CP) - The sagging New York Rangers dropped a 4-2 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs here last night but remained in fourth place in the National Hockey League standing because of Detroit's 6-0 loss to Boston.

With six games remaining in the regular schedule, the Rangers were trying to strengthen their hold on the last playoff berth but Toronto came from behind a two goal disadvantage to win.

A crowd of 15,925 at Madison Square Gardens saw Harry Watson, big Toronto left wing and Bill Ezinicki, fiery right wing, lead the Leaf scoring. Watson scored once and got assists on the two counters Ezinicki pushed in. Norman Poile got the other Toronto goal.

New York counted twice in the first 11 minutes of the game. Edgar Laprade started off the sniping at 6:24 and Alf Pike made it 2-0 at 10:16.

At 11:58 Harry Watson put Toronto in the running with Syl Apps and Poile assisting.

TORONTO - Broda: Thomson, Morrison; Apps; Ezinicki; H. Watson. Subs: M. Metz, Poile, Kennedy, D. Metz, Lynn, Meeker, Stewart, Kluckay, Barliko, Smith.

NEW YORK - Rayner Colville, Juzda, Laprade, Warwick, Leewick. Subs: Layton, Trudell, P. Watson, Pike, Hestall, Demarco, Russell, Bell, Moe, Referee - Bill Chadwick; linesmen - Stan McCabe, Doug Young.

FRANCIS SMOTHERED

UNDER 12-GOAL ATTACK

TORONTO, March 10 (CP) - The night he had often dreamed about, tending goal in Toronto on a Saturday night while hockey fans back in Saskatchewan followed every move as they huddled about their radios, proved a nightmare for Emile (The Cat) Francis.

The younger Chicago Black Hawks plucked from Regina Caps a few weeks back, made his debut here Saturday night and the Toronto Maple Leafs treated him mercilessly as they smeared the Hawks 12-4 before 13,276 fans.

FIRST PERIOD: 1-Toronto, Watson (Ezinicki, Barliko) 2:28; 2-Toronto, Thomson (N. Metz) 4:45; 3-Toronto, Poile (Kennedy) 7:03; 4-Chicago, Kaleta (M. Bentley, Brown) 10:35; 5-Chicago, Mosienko (Mariucci, Kaleta) 15:19; 6-Toronto, Apps (Watson) 18:05; 7-Toronto, Thompson 19:30. Penalties - Brown, Thompson.

THIRD PERIOD: 13-Toronto, Barliko (Lynn, Kennedy) 3:20; 14-Toronto, Poile (N. Metz, Kluckay) 11:14; 15-Chicago, Gee (Brown) 13:45; 16-Toronto, Meeker (Lynn, Kennedy) 19:04. Penalty-Morton.

Boxing Show At Viking Friday

Boxing fans in Viking and district are in for a big festive attraction next Friday night.

The card, which will consist of five bouts, will be headlined by George Mazurenko, classy Edmonton lightweight, and Billy Green, hard punching Calgary fighter. They are scheduled to battle eight three-minute rounds for the Alberta lightweight championship.

Supporting bouts to the Green-Mazurenko feature, as arranged by Promoter Walt Marlow, will be made up of two six-rounders, and two four round bouts. Gordon Gray, Viking welterweight, will meet Danny Roberts, Edmonton, in one match, and Ray Jones, Viking, is scheduled to do battle with Louie Demers, Morinville, in another. The four rounders will see Wayne McCullough, Edmonton, facing Mighton Archibald, Irma, and Allan Brown, Viking, against Dave Reeve, Hardisty.

Hogan, Demaret Take Four-Ball

MIAMI, Fla., March 10 (AP) - Golf's greatest team, Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., won the $10,000 international four-ball golf tournament here Sunday for the second straight year, by defeating Lloyd Mangrum, of Los Angeles, and Lawson Little of Cleveland 3 and 2.

The two closed out the match on the 34th hole as each team had a birdie four. Demaret missed a five-footer for a potential eagle.

Seena Centre

Two Seena Centre community hockey teams will practice tonight at the Seena Centre rink. The juveniles will practice at 7:15 and the intermediates at 8:15.

A packed 13,900 crowd at the Boston garden. It was the Bruins' fifth straight victory and goalie Frankie Brimsek's third white-washing feat of the season.

Before making their last appearances of the regular season here, the Red Wings had only lost one of their last 10 starts, a drive that put them only a half game out of the fourth and last playoff berth.

But they scrambled, bumped into each other and shot erratically from start to finish and Brimsek ruined their most impressive scoring possibility, a steaming penalty shot by pivotman Pat Lundy, with polished ease in the second session.

While making sure of 11 out of a possible 12 points from the Red Wings on their home rink, the Bruins scored twice in each frame.

DETROIT - Lumley; Quackenbush, Stewart; Abel; Rozec; Lindsay; Sub-Lundy; Couture; J. Conacher; R. Conacher; Howe; Brunetteau; Reiss; McCaskey; Taylor.

Swimming Records Set at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, March 10 (CP) - Vancouver swimmers laid claim to two new Canadian records here Saturday night in an inter-city meet with Victoria.

Officials of the Vancouver Associated Swimming Club, sponsors of the meet said they would ask the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association for official recognition of the new marks.

Ted Wilson of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming club established a new Canadian mark of 29.6 seconds in the 50 yard backstroke for senior men. The old record of 29.8 seconds was held by Wilson and Jack MacCormack of Hamilton.

Three Vancouver girls, Irene Strong, Norah Kirkpatrick and Kay MacNamee, set a record for the 150-yard medley relay for senior women when they broke the old time of 1:40 with a time of 1:39.5. The girls, members of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming club, established a Canadian junior record for this race last year and still hold that mark.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and set a definite time every morning. When you get regular every morning cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1.

Then try taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative.

You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 8 to 1—to fit the needs of your individual system. Without disappointment.

Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not halfway, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because each with two vegetable fibers compounded properly for thorough, easy action.

"I usually can cut down on laxative dose, that's after way. Ask for Carter's by name to get the genuine at any drug store. 5c, 10c, 25c. Start the Carter graduated dose method tonight, and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go."

Have you discovered the secret of real shaving comfort?

THE SHAVE IS BETTER WHEN THE LATHER STAYS WETTER

Yes, the WETTER the lather the BETTER the shave. A quick-drying lather dries out on your face—causes sting and burn. CANADIAN RED CROSS

The work of mercy never ends - Give

IN VETERANS' HOSPITALS across Canada are thousands of sick and disabled men who must still spend weeks, months or years under medical care. Were it not for the Red Cross, these men would have no place to visit with their families when they come to the hospital.

But through your generosity, Red Cross lodges have been erected, or are being built, adjacent to many veterans' hospitals. Here convalescent patients may enjoy frequent happy visits with their relatives and friends, amid cheery, homelike surroundings. These lodges also provide overnight accommodation for next-of-kin visitors, especially women and children.

By donating to the Red Cross, you can make sure that our wounded veterans, to whom we owe so much, receive the comfort they need. Give NOW... give generously.

Seeking Increase School Dormitory

RED DEER.—Special meeting of delegates from Red Deer, Lacombe, Rocky Mountain House, and the Red Deer board of trade was held here in the municipal offices, for the consideration of providing more high school accommodation in Red Deer for out-of-town students who desired to attend and for whom no space was available.

Meeting decided to send a delegation composed of A. Houston, of the Red Deer public school board, F. D. Stevenette of the Red Deer school division, V. McCullough, of the Lacombe divisional school board and B. Barnes of the Rocky board to investigate possibilities of securing proper buildings from the former army camp here for conversion to school uses.

A delegation will also be sent to Edmonton next Wednesday to consult with the department of education on the setting up of a composite high school here. Such a school would receive 80 percent of its operating costs from the provincial government.

Wilson Is Speaker At Killam Meeting

KILLAM.—At the regular March meeting of the board of trade held recently, members were addressed by Arthur Wilson, field crops commissioner for Alberta. In his address Mr. Wilson stressed the importance of soil conservation.

Plans were made for the formation of a fish and game league for the protection of wild game in this district. President A. Easton gave a report of the meeting in Camrose recently at which a number of delegates from Killam attended.

Mrs. R. Simpson Head of Society

KILLAM.—Mrs. R. Simpson has been elected president of the Killam Baptist Women's Missionary society, election taking place at the annual meeting.

Other officers are: vice-president, Mrs. E. Hearberg; secretary, Mrs. S. A. Sorenson; treasurer, Mrs. D. Smith and courtesy convenor, Mrs. S. A. Sorenson.

WIN FARMERS' BONSPIEL

RED DEER.—A rink skipped by Don McLevin of Red Deer won the annual farmers' bonspiel staged at the Red Deer curling rink all day Wednesday. Sixteen rinks from the city and country were entered in the event and the losers consolation was won by Frank Stewart's rink. Entry was considered good in this bonspiel considering the blocked roads in the district.

Ice Carnival at Wetaskiwin Witnessed by Capacity Crowd

By Jack Deakin

WETASKIWIN.—Four thousand persons who crowded the arena here for the presentation Friday and Saturday nights of the city's largest and most colorful ice carnival in its history, witnessed the complete and successful fulfillment of five weeks' effort.

One of the biggest ice shows ever attempted here, the success of the carnival was a tribute to the Wetaskiwin skating club, the board of trade, school students and other willing workers who only five weeks ago began preparations for the show. To have assembled the many and varied costumes, worked out scenery, routine of the skaters and the 160 and one other details in such a short time was indeed a commendable effort.

Performances Good

While all skaters of the club—boasting about 75 members since its inception a few months ago—skated well and were near perfect in their roles, major honors go to leading skaters. These included the pretty little Alicia Witzke in the role of Gerda in the story "The Snow Queen." Creditable performances also were given by Walter Kaasa, who directed the show and to Nadine Palloff, Kaasa and Miss Palloff gave a stellar performance in the colorful snow queen and snow prince scene.

Also pleasing the capacity crowds that braved sub-zero weather both nights of the carnival were the performances by skaters from the Edmonton Glenora club. These included Carol Taylor, Lillian and Murdo Munro, Barbara Park and Xenia English and the Glenora club professional, Stephanie MacDonald.

A number receiving the applause of an appreciative crowd was an exhibition of dances by Miss Palloff, Walter Kaasa, Fernie Crook, Howard Beaton, Jackie Clarke and Shirley Vellner. Adding humor—enjoyed especially by the younger members of the audience—was the comedy pair of Phil Wilson and Lyman Bennett.

Peggy Ketchin Queen

Another feature, one which launched the carnival, was the crowning of the carnival queen, pretty Peggy Ketchin. Queen Peggy was attended by three other queen candidates, Kathleen MacDonald, Eileen Vold and Shirley Ann Cassidy. The crown was placed on Miss Ketchin by J. R. Strother, Edmonton district superintendent of the C.P.R. The queen entered the arena ice surface on a throne drawn by a number of members of the Wetaskiwin Sea Cadets.

From the minute the hobgoblin stole Billy McElroy in the role of Kay from his playmate, Gerda, until the grand finale, the show was a steady passing of gay costumes with considerable commendable skating.

There were many fine scenes such as the dance of the flowers, exhibitions by the Glenora and Wetaskiwin club skaters and probably one of the best for lovely costumes, the snow queen scene.

The Committee

Efforts of the following committees made the show's success possible:

Executive committee: chairman, O. Williamson; secretary-treasurer, Dale Manley; school representatives, O. Massing and J. Blockidge; skating club, H. Beaton, president; City of Wetaskiwin representative, Aid. H. Meraw.

Advertising: Lloyd Willis, Vern Harford, Elmer Cortsen, purchasing committee: L. Ragosin, Dale Manley, O. Williamson.

Scenery and decorations: Norman White, Alvin Beavo, Harry Mottus, Elmer Olson, Ray Smith, Peter Fearneough, Helen Provost, Patricia Stein, costumes: Mrs. C. Enman, Mrs. E. Abousaif, Mrs. W. Ketchin, Mrs. R. Ketchin, Mrs. V. Harford.

Program: Walter Kaasa, Howard Beaton, Fernie Crook, Nadine Palloff, ticket sale: Joe Blockidge, Miss Youmie, Colleen Groves, Raymond Anderson.

CLINIC CANCELLED

RED DEER.—Clinic meeting of the Pincher Creek board of trade scheduled to be held on March 17 has been cancelled. H. Purdy of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Red Deer, was to be the special speaker. Meeting was cancelled in view of the road conditions.

City Man In Charge

Mr. Elford on his return from the tower, the return trip requiring only four days, stated he saw five moose and six deer on the trip. He also spotted wolves and said squirrels were numerous. He stated, however, there were no signs of martens or mink although in 1946 the Metis District "planted" 15 martens from Mile 7 to 19 on the East Prairie trail.

Another trip to the tower will be necessary before snow is gone. Don Bruce, of Edmonton, is in charge of the tower.

LEADING PLAYOFF

THREE HILLS.—Three Hills went one game up in the Big Five Hockey league playdowns by winning the first game against Trochu by a 7-1 score. It is a best two-of-three game series.

Elks to Operate Annual Stampede

RED DEER.—Ray Pollock was elected president of the Elks' annual stampede committee at a meeting of the Elks' lodge here. Other officials elected are H. R. Brown, vice-president; G. Baile, secretary; directors, E. C. Broderick, Gordon Sorenson, Tom Smethurst, Jack Taylor.

This will be the first year that the Elks have operated this stampede, as in previous years it was staged under the guidance of Roy Lisagar, of Vegreville.

$50,000 Damage In Vilna Blaze

SMOKE LAKE.—Fire Friday, causing an estimated damage of $50,000, destroyed the Weider flour mill at Vilna. The blaze smoldered for 10 hours after fire-fighting operations had started.

It is believed the fire broke out as a result of an overheated exhaust pipe of an engine. Some flour was saved but most of the other mill products were lost. Most of the flour milled here is shipped overseas.

Municipality Aids Farmers Cleaning Seed at Camrose

CAMROSE.—Municipally-operated seed cleaning plant for the cleaning of cereals is rushing through stocks of wheat, oats and barley at the rate of 100 bushels an hour and operating 24 hours a day.

Set up by the agricultural service board of the enlarged Camrose municipality, through the co-operation of the town in providing space in the drill hall, it was needed as the Alberta Seed Growers bill plant here is still very busy with forage seeds.

Because many farmers between here and Wetaskiwin were hauled out more seed than usual has to be secured. With farm cleaning equipment worn-out or hard to obtain, assistance of the provincial field crops branch was extended in securing cleaning equipment. More seed is being cleaned and the work is being done to speed operations. A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, made an inspection this week and commended the set-up.

Cleaning has been done for farmers who have bought stocks from neighbors, also for those who wanted bulk market grain cleaned to commercial seed grades. Carloads have been shipped to Wetaskiwin and Loughdale.

CLINIC CANCELLED

RED DEER.—Clinic meeting of the Pincher Creek board of trade scheduled to be held on March 17 has been cancelled. H. Purdy of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Red Deer, was to be the special speaker. Meeting was cancelled in view of the road conditions.

Snow, Cold Is Encountered In 180-Mile Northland Trek

HIGH PRAIRIE.—Buckings snow-drifted trails and the perils of breaking through snow-covered ice over a 180-mile route, four men with three teams and sleighs have returned to High Prairie after 16 days' travel.

The trip was completed by Monte Elford, forest ranger for district No. 35 and Archie McLeod and his two sons. They delivered a year's supply of fuel to the lookout tower on Goose mountain, 90 miles south of here.

Reached River

Sleighs loaded with 30 drums of gas, the party plunged over drifts of snow they encountered. The East Prairie river. Travel on the ice was over 20 inches of snow and from four to six inches of overflow water. The sleighs broke through the ice three times and on one occasion the tongue of one sleigh was broken. It was pulled six miles to Cabin No. 19 by chain before being repaired.

Travel from Mile 28 to Mile 30 required two days as huge snow-drifts were encountered. The tower itself was reached late at night on the 12th day of bucking cold and snow.

City Man In Charge

Mr. Elford on his return from the tower, the return trip requiring only four days, stated he saw five moose and six deer on the trip. He also spotted wolves and said squirrels were numerous. He stated, however, there were no signs of martens or mink although in 1946 the Metis District "planted" 15 martens from Mile 7 to 19 on the East Prairie trail.

Killam Carnival Aid to Rink Fund

KILLAM.—A large crowd braved extremely cold weather recently to attend the ice carnival held here recently and sponsored by the board of trade.

Prizes for the best fancy costumes went to Mary Ellen Bruder and Patsy Love; for best comic costume, Irene McMahon and Kathleen Slavick.

Prize winners in the children's races were: girls under 9, Joyce Huxton, Helen Schiller; girls under 12, Lucille Van Hese, Norma Enghoy; boys under 9, Gary Bennett, Orville Sosken; boys under 12, Bob Slavik, Harvey Ansley; boys under 16, Ken Manning and Austin Sorling.

Ladies' broomball game between Sedgewick and Killam was won by the home team by a score of 1-0. The men's broomball game was a tie score between two Killam teams.

Charles Meria was in charge of announcements and the music was supplied by Norma Sorenson, owner of the Killam Electrical supplies.

Carnival proceeds were for the new rink fund.

Name Committees At Three Hills

THREE HILLS.—At a recent council meeting several important committees were appointed by Mayor C. J. Davidson.

Canadian Railways Return to Normal

MONTREAL. (CP)—A railway source said Saturday that Canada's railways have returned to "normal" after disruption in operations caused by the storm early this week, and that the 1,500 box cars which were stalled by snowdrifts are on their way to newspaper and other vital industries as well as to western grain centres.

Conservatives Won't Contest Byelection

MONTREAL. (CP)—The Progressive Conservative party, "in view of its desire not to divide further the anti-Communist vote," will not enter a candidate in the Montreal-Cartier federal byelection of March 31. It was announced Saturday by Ivan Babourin, provincial leader. The seat, formerly held by Labor Progressive Fred Rose, now serving a six-year sentence after conviction for espionage activities, was declared open by act of parliament.

Three candidates have filed nomination papers: City Councillor Dave Rochon, Independent Liberal; City Councillor Michael Buhay, Labor Progressive nominee, and O. L. Gingras, who thus far has made no mention of political affiliation. Maurice Hart, M.L.A. for Montreal-St. Louis, has been named as candidate for the Liberal party and Paul Masse as Bloc Populaire standard-bearer.

Claims 15,000 School Pupils Need Teachers

It is a "blot on our present day civilization" that "a certain percentage of our people can find nearly forty million dollars for the purchase of liquor during the present fiscal year and at the same time leave an estimated 15,000 boys and girls without the advantage of qualified teachers," J. Percy Page (Ind Edmonton) opposition leader in the Alberta legislature said on Monday afternoon when he continued the budget debate.

MR. PAGE pointed out that the estimated profits for liquor for the coming year were $2,000,000 and for education was the same figure. "Thus he said" The proposed additional expenditure for education that the increased amount allotted is not going to cost the government one single cent.

He said the similarity between the two figures was the result of pure chance, but indicated that the liquor profits were "found money," indicating that it was not in any way comparable to money taken from the farmer, "but simply to the insatiable thirst of those who make this traffic possible, and in diverting these increased profits to education or to any other requirement no government is entitled to any special credit."

AS AN EDUCATIONIST he must say "Thank you, kindly" to the government for the increase in appropriations for education, but this year with the record revenue of all time was the year in which the province "could go all out for education."

One method of considering this type of expenditure, was to compare the amount of it on a percentage basis with the amounts spent of total revenue in previous years. He quoted figures to indicate that the percentage of revenue spent for education had declined each year the present government was in office from 14.80 per cent in 1937 to the present 11.70 per cent.

IN PROPORTION to the amount for education raised by the municipalities, the present government had boosted its portion to what he estimated to be between 31 per cent and 37 per cent.

The 50 per cent figure demanded by authorities throughout the province was not accidentally arrived at Mr. Page indicated, since Ontario and British Columbia are now doing that very thing.

In England the national government supplies well over 50 per cent of the cost of education, he continued and suggested that if war torn Britain can do it, Alberta, "a land flowing with milk and honey should be able to better that."

Colder Weather Is Forecast Here

Unskilled Trades To Provide Jobs

Unskilled trades and heavy industries will offer greatest amount of employment in Canada during the balance of the year, according to J. White, Winnipeg, western regional superintendent for the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

IN EDMONTON Monday Mr. White said in the western region there were 31,000 registrations for placement as against 6,000 openings for workers. Of the 6,000 jobs available 2,800 were in the logging and lumbering industry. A large proportion were for workers in the domestic field, he said.

Situation for "white collar" trades was less promising with bulk of post-war employment adjustments reaching a basis of balance.

IN THE EXECUTIVE and professional section of the UIC greater recognition is being accorded the commission in its facilities for placement of personnel in administrative and managerial classifications he said.

Mr. White is conferring with the commissions local representatives on matters which, he said, would be announced later.

School Location Still Indefinite

Though it is generally believed that the location of the third agricultural school, construction of which was forecast in the provincial budget on 1946 and again in 1947, will be in the northern part of the province, no specific announcement as to its location will be made until the department of public works is ready to proceed with its construction, an official of the department of agriculture said Monday.

This is the second year that the estimates have contained provision for the expenditure of $500,000 for building of such a school but it is feared that shortage of materials and labor may delay construction for another year.

The province will be re-imbursement to the extent of 50 per cent of the cost of the construction.

Assessments Reveal $6,310,315 Increase

Edmonton's 1947 assessment roll shows an increase of $6,310,315 in land and improvements over last year, the most substantial increase in recent years, it was disclosed in a communication to be submitted Monday night to city council by Thomas Walker, city assessor.

Chinese Cashes 2 Bad Cheques

A Chinese has netted himself $116.20 by means of two forged cheques recently, according to city detectives. The man, who signed himself as T. Lung, went to a hardware store and a second hand store, ordered numerous articles and in each place gave a cheque to pay for them, taking change in cash.

He ordered the goods to be delivered to two different cafes in Edson. Later when the goods were shipped to Edson one cafe sent the goods back saying that they had never ordered them while the other cafe could not be located.

At the second hand store $39.00 worth of goods were bought and in the hardware store he ordered $19.45 worth. He gave cheques to each store for a value of $87.50.

The cheques were purported to be signed by Y. Mah and were endorsed by T. Lung.

Taxi Driver Draws Gun

A city taxi driver, Michael Tyckowski, 9630 102 avenue, appeared in city police court Saturday charged with illegal possession of firearms. He was released on bail of $2,000 and remanded until March 14.

Police said accused brandished a revolver in front of two taxi patrons after an argument over the fare.

William Lazuruk, Mannville, and Walter Kuwica, Irma, told police that they hired the cab about 2:30 a.m. Saturday. An argument developed over the fare, the two complainants alleged, then the driver produced a revolver and is alleged to have stated that he "was boss of this taxi."

The two complainants took the number of the taxi and notified police. Police said that when they questioned the driver he produced a .32 revolver which he said he had acquired in lieu of fare from a woman. No plea was registered by the accused following the reading of the charge on Saturday.

Everyman Theatre Concludes Visit

"The Last Caveman" written by the well-known Edmonton author, Elsie Park Gowan, received rounds of applause from an audience of 500 persons who attended the Everyman Theatre's final performance in the Garneau school auditorium on Saturday night.

IN HER play the author gives splendid opportunities through her characters, for some fine acting on the part of the cast. The plot is exceptionally interesting and holds the attention of the audience throughout.

Those taking part in the three act comedy were: David Major, Lois McLean, Edward Follows, Floyd Caza, Peggy Hassard, Esther Nelson, Arthur Hill, A. Murray Westgate, Ronald Rosvold, Edward McNamara and Drew Thompson.

ALSO PRESENTED during the evening was a one-act comedy entitled "The Marriage Proposal" by Anton Chekhov. The three in the cast, Ronald Rosvold, Hilda Nual, and Drew Thompson drew many laughs from the packed house.

All plays presented by Everyman Theatre, which has been touring Canada since November, are directed by Sydney Risk, well-known to Edmonton theatre patrons.

Ask Continue Control Of Prices and Rents

The Dominion government will be asked to reimpose controls on the prices of necessities and on rents, as a result of a public meeting sponsored by the Edmonton cost-of-living committee in the Memorial Hall Sunday afternoon.

Red Cross Drive Here Intensified

Edmonton's canvassers in the drive for $100,000 in the funds campaign for the Canadian Red Cross Association swung into action in all sections of the city early Monday morning, and although reports of returns were not yet assembled at press time, reception and response was indicated as "exceptionally enthusiastic" from all sections, H. T. Griffiths, campaign chairman announced.

Receipts Saturday noon tabled in advance of the opening date (totalled) $4,565.95, Mr. Griffiths said.

On behalf of the objectives of the Red Cross and of the voluntary workers who year after year gave their time for its worthy purpose, Mr. Griffiths appealed to the city's citizens for generous financial donations.

"Let's maintain Edmonton's enviable reputation as a city of citizens who recognize and respond to needs and purposes of a worthy cause," said Mr. Griffiths.

Returns to City In New Business

George B. Orlesky, who formerly operated George's Meat Market in the Edmonton City Market building, has returned from Lloydminster and has taken over the stock and interests of a fruit and vegetable stand in the same building.

Mr. Orlesky said a sum of $4,000 was involved in purchase of his new interest. At Lloydminster Mr. Orlesky operated a dining room concession in an hotel. He took over his new business in Edmonton on Saturday.

Established New Record February Temperature 8 Points Below Average

Last month established a record for weather here, eight degrees colder, than the average for February, it was announced Monday by the meteorological division of air services, department of transport.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE for the month was 45 degrees below zero on Feb. 1, and the lowest individual temperature for any February in 66 years was recorded in 1893 when the temperature was 57 degrees below zero.

Other outstanding cold temperatures were Februarys in 1893, 1917 and 1939 when the temperatures registered 50 degrees below; 1884 with 52 below; and 1936 with 51 below.

ALSO IN the record-establishing bracket, February's snowfall was more than double the average for February.

On the brighter and warmer side, the highest temperature recorded during the month was on Feb. 15, when temperature was 43.9 degrees above zero.

Hours of sunshine were 102 hours as compared to the normal of 116.7 and for the average. Average wind-speed was 7.8 miles per hour as compared to 8 in the average month of February.

MAXIMUM WIND speed for one hour was on Feb. 5 when 35 miles per hour was registered. Maximum wind speed for any 10-minute period was 42 miles per hour also on Feb. 5.

Snowfall for the average year is 6.5, this year it was 13.2 inches. Warmest February since 1881 was in 1931 when the average temperature was 31 degrees above, and the coldest in 1936 when the average temperature was 16.5 below zero.

On the brighter and warmer side, the highest temperature recorded during the month was on Feb. 15, when temperature was 43.9 degrees above zero.

Minister of Public Works Announces

Government Planning Completion Of Edmonton-Calgary Highway

Completion of the Edmonton-Calgary highway except for the portion of the road between Ponoka and Red Deer, which calls for new construction so traffic can make use of the new bridge over the Red Deer river is a part of the provincial government's expanded program of road construction planned for the current year.

A MAJOR ITEM on the Edmonton and central Alberta district is the rebuilding of the Wetaskiwin-Camrose section of highway 13. These are salient features of the extensive program planned by the department of public works. Hon. W. A. Fallow revealed on Monday when asked as to the location of the work and a few details of the planned expenditure of the $8,800,000 allotted for main highways in the province.

BOTH SIDES of the highway at Olds, will be completed and tenders have already been called for hard surfacing the road from Calgary to Crossfield. Blacktopping will be carried out to Ponoka.

The Calgary-Crossfield section, almost completely last year, will have the final surface coat put on this year.

It is intended to hard-surface the road from Edmonton to Morinville and from Edmonton to Seba beach during the summer months. The minister also announced that surveys are being made to straighten the road east from Edmonton to Elk Island Park, though there was some doubt that work could be started this year.

Negotiations are still under way with the Dominion government in connection with park roads, Mr. Fallow said, but indicated that it was "possible" that hard surfacing might be carried out to the Chipman corner when this agreement was completed.

In the Peace River-Grande Prairie district the highway from Beaverlodge to the B. C. border will be completed this year, Mr. Fallow said, and would be in a new location.

REBUILDING of the highway from Fairview to Dunvegan is also on the program, the minister said. This will mean a "rebuild and gravel" job.

In southern Alberta, tenders for the rebuilding of the highway from Fairview to Dunvegan is also on the program, the minister said. This will mean a "rebuild and gravel" job.

RECENTLY council instructed the commissioners to confer with railway officials relative to the abandonment of the low level bridge as a railway carrier. The request was made in connection with the construction of an addition to the low level bridge.

In the communication being submitted to council from the CNR it is pointed out that "the traffic problem has increased and the most economical and appropriate way of helping would apparently be the widening of the present structure, or the duplicating of it so that traffic could be separated at this point."

THE COMMISSIONERS report that the total revenue derived by the railway line across the low level bridge amounted in 1946 to approximately $309,540, and this one of the main reasons why the railway company cannot see it clear to waive its rights over the bridge.

It should also be mentioned, the commissioners report, that at the time the Bretona cut-off was agreed to by the Board of Railway Commissioners, the Canadian National Railways was informed that the company would have to operate the service to the South Side across this bridge.

3 Cars Lost: Recover All

Theft of three automobiles and attempted theft of another occurred during the week-end, according to city police. The stolen vehicles were recovered a few hours after they were reported missing.

Two of the autos taken belonged to taxi firms while the other is owned by William Stefura, 9925 102 street. They were taken last night shortly after 2 a.m. Sunday. Harold Falkenburg, 8235 107 avenue, told police that about 2:40 a.m. Sunday his auto was parked in front of 10022 102 street. When he came out of the house a man was sitting in the front seat behind the wheel. The stranger got out of the car and walked away.

Falkenburg said that when he went to start his vehicle he found that the ignition and light wires had been cut indicating that the man in the auto had attempted to start the auto by crossing the ignition wires.

have been called for construction of the hard surface road, Lethbridge to Coufils and Calgary to Canby.

HARD SURFACING will also be called for from Lethbridge to Taber and from Lethbridge to Monarch. The short, rough road from Lethbridge to the airport will also be hard surfaced.

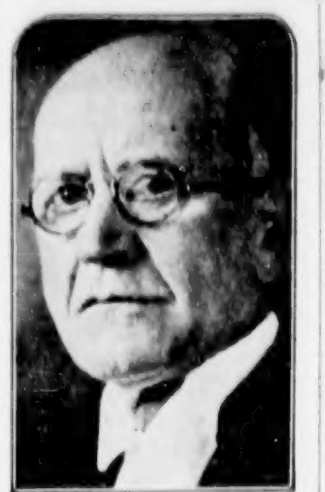

The minister stressed that this announcement was not complete and could not be completed until the engineering department had completed plans and specification and estimates of costs.

"We are pushing out the advertisements calling for tenders for highway construction nearly every day," he said.

Favors Abolition Of London Appeals

Abolition of appeals to the privy council and establishment of the supreme court of Canada as the final court of appeal were favored in comments Monday by W. C. Ives, K.C., Calgary, former chief justice of the Alberta supreme court, trial division.

MR. IVES, interviewed at the Macdonald, is in Edmonton on matters of advisory council and arbitrations for which he is representative.

"It depends on the strength maintained in the final courts of Canada," said the veteran jurist in answer to the question regarding privy council supremacy.

"I BELIEVE Canada has grown to the point where she has qualified men to dispose of any litigation in her courts," he said.

In his remark favoring abolition of appeals to the privy council, Mr. Ives said, "the supreme court of Canada should be the final court of appeal."

Reports Heard by Delegates At Annual Meeting of Guides

Miss Betty Martin, provincial secretary at the Saturday afternoon session of the annual meeting of the Alberta Council of the Canadian Girl Guide Association, reported the revision of the constitution on training. Mrs. Walker Taylor is now head of Brownies, Mrs. F. A. Watkins of Turner Valley was appointed head of Guides and Miss Martin head of Rangers for the province.

She reported that a help to the work of guiding was the opening of a central office in Edmonton, shared with the scout organization at the Scout Provincial building. She announced a joint scout-guide committee had been formed for work in Alberta.

Reporting on various community services, she mentioned the furnishing of a private ward by a company of Didsbury Rangers. Welcomed to the Council's Guide family were Guides and Brownies of Dawson City, Akavik and Yellowknife, as well as newly-formed companies and packs throughout Alberta.

MISS BETH Riddoch, provincial field secretary, reported an active year's work. She had been asked to direct training courses in other provinces, and had traveled as far as the Maritimes. She had also a full program of organizing and training throughout Alberta and during the summer had inspected camps in the which there had been a total of 457 Guides.

The report of Mrs. F. W. Wooten, provincial extension commissioner, paid tribute to the work of Miss Gena Burke of Edmonton, for her work with the brownie pack at the University Hospital. Mrs. Wooten appealed to guide companies to adopt any handicapped girl in their communities who needed friendship.

The Lone Guide Commissioner, Mrs. J. B. C. Carter, reported progress and increased enrolment of isolated Guides.

Major Grace Eby reported for the Salvation Army Guide com-

IODE Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. J. Bill will represent the Lt.-Col. Barker, VC, chapter IODE, at the provincial annual convention to be held in Calgary during Easter week. She will be accompanied by Miss Kay Sibun.

Mrs. Bill's appointment was made at the March meeting of the chapter held recently at the home of Mrs. W. S. Niewchias.

The following conveners were appointed to carry on the work of the various committees during the coming year: child and family welfare, Miss Kay Sibun; ex-service, Miss Helen Stewart; post-war, Mrs. W. S. Niewchias; blind, Mrs. V. Coupland; endowment, Mrs. R. Slater; assimilation and immigration, Mrs. W. S. Niewchias; empire study, Mrs. R. Mercer; films, Mrs. W. S. Niewchias; press and canteen, Mrs. V. Coupland.

A donation was made to the St. John's Ambulance Association in answer to a special appeal and $10 was voted for wool to be sent overseas. Plans were made for the members to attend the annual municipal dinner and meeting to be held at the Macdonald hotel, Monday, March 10. A new member, Miss Zeeta Christie, was welcomed to the chapter.

TO PRESIDE: Dr. G. J. Hope, president of the Edmonton branch, Alberta Motor Association, who will preside at a dinner to be given at the Macdonald hotel tonight by the association in honor of members of the Alberta Legislature.

March 10. A new member, Miss Zeeta Christie, was welcomed to the chapter.

City Women Arrange Rally

A women's mass meeting to channel efforts of Edmonton women towards insuring lasting peace will be held at 8:15 p.m. March 20 at the Masonic Temple. Decision was made at a recent meeting of women representatives from 25 local organizations, called by the Council for Canadian Unity at the Corona hotel.

Five speakers will deal with subjects pertinent to aims of the Congress of Canadian Women, an organization formed recently in Toronto, and affiliated with the Women's International Democratic Federation which has headquarters in Paris.

Aims of the Congress of Canadian Women are: to defend and advance the status and welfare of women in Canada and all parts of the world in political, economic and cultural fields; to promote Canada's full and proper contribution to world peace; to advance the stability and well-being of family life.

Protect and promote the health and full development of children and youth; insure for them the extension of benefits of science and education for the fulfillment of their abilities, talents and aspirations; further democracy in Canada and throughout the world and protect Canada and other nations against anti-social and fascist forces seeking to undermine, warp and impede the growth of a democratic society.

Chief Airways Inspector Says Calgary Statement

"Inaccurate, Misleading"

Asserting that a statement in a Calgary newspaper Saturday dealing with schedules of rates set for department of transport airports was inaccurate and misleading John D. Hunter, chief inspector, Northern Airways, denied that the new schedule increased rates from 40 to 200 per cent above present rates as alleged in the news story.

HE SAID that under the old rates a privately owned plane cost $70 monthly in airport charges even if used only a few times, and under the new rate a plane with a span of under 30 feet averaged $26.25 for storage, and if flown every day would cost approximately $12.40 for landing charges, a total monthly cost of $38.65.

For the private owner type machine the year round storage under the old rate was $325, and on the new rate this amounts to $315.82. Added are landing charges based on licensed gross weight of the aircraft, and for the light aircraft this amounts to 20 cents for each flight, and a private owned shooting landings would not be charged for each landing but would be charged for a series of landings until he returned to the hangar.

FOR THE private owner type with a 40 to 50 wingspread the old rate was $1,170 compared with the new rate of $1,018.05 with landing charges of 50 cents for each operation.

Handling charges are included in the new schedules, Mr. Hunter stated, but are levied only on the request of the operator to supply assistance, and in the majority of cases they handle their own craft in and out of hangars.

Department personnel will open or close doors, and if the craft-

DICK TRACY

I'M SO HAPPY I FOUND YOU IN, MR. TRACY. I JUST HAD TO TAKE YOU FOR A RIDE IN MY NEW CAR.

YOU WERE SO WONDERFUL TO HAVE THEM. GIVE ME THIS CAR, MR. TRACY. I'LL NEVER FORGET IT.

"JOHN'S WIFE'S OTHER UNCLE," THE GREAT SOAP OPERA! TO THINK YOU HAVE BEEN OFFERED A PART IN IT, VITAMIN!

OH, I COULD DRIVE ON LIKE THIS FOREVER WITH YOU, MR. TRACY.

MOON MULLINS

I WON'T BE NEEDING THIS WHEEL CHAIR ANY MORE, WILLIE. PUT IT AWAY IN THE ATTIC.

OH-OH! WHAT'S THIS? A LADY'S HANDBAG!

PROBABLY A SURPRISE FOR LADY PLUSHBOTTOM.

I'LL SAY SHE'D BE SURPRISED! ALL FIXED UP WITH SOME CHANGE, SECOND-HAND LIPSTICK AND A LADY'S CALLING CARD.

SUPERMAN

THROUGH A RUSE PERFORMED BY HIS SUPER-POWERS, SUPERMAN HAS INDUCED A COUPLE OF WAYWARD YOUNGSTERS TO ABANDON THEIR CAREER OF CRIME.

NOW, IN HIS IDENTITY OF CLARK KENT, HE ENCOUNTERS FURIOUS LOIS LANE DEPARTING FROM CITY HALL.

THAT COUNCILMAN GLADSTONE HAS CREATED A BLOC IN CITY COUNCIL THAT REFUSES TO PERMIT TENEMENTS TO BE TORN DOWN AND PLAY-GROUNDS ERECTED.

WE'RE NOT LUCKED YET. WE CAN STILL OPPOSE HIM IN PRINT.

YOU'LL LIKE THAT WON'T YOU? ANYTHING TO KEEP FROM STANDING UP TO HIM FACE-TO-FACE AND MAN-TO-MAN!

I'M A WRITER, LOIS—NOT A FIGHTER. (THIS PLAYING THE GOVARD LIES ITS HUMILIATING MOMENTS.)

WHIA-AAT?! (DON'T KNOW WHAT'S BOTHERIN' TH' BOSS, BUT HE SURE LOOKS PEEVED.)

MEANWHILE—THE HEADQUARTERS OF "BIG JIM" MOKEY...

DOTTIE

SAY DOTTY—HERE'S THE PRIZE I WON ON THE QUESTION I SENT TO THAT RADIO QUIZ PROGRAM!

OH, WHAT IS IT, DADDY?

MAYBE IT'S A RADIO, OR A CANINE, OR A—

GULP... IT'S A YEAR'S SUPPLY OF DOG BISCUITS!!

EVEN WHEN I WIN I LOSE!!

GAS ALLEY

I FEEL SAD, IT'S THE LAST RIDE IN OUR OLD CAR.

YES, EMILY, IT GOES TO SPINDANGLE AND HIS OCTANE AUTOMOTIVE MUSEUM THIS WEEK.

WHAT'S THE MATTER, AVERY?

STEERING GEAR OR SOMETHING HAS GONE HAYWIRE! HANG TIGHT!

ARCHIE

HMM! THIS THAT'S MY PROBLEM, ARCHIE. HE TAKES VERONICA FOR MADAME GIRLFRIEND BUT SMOG CAN YOU HELP FOR GRANTED ME?

I SOG-JEST THAT YOU PUT YOUR MOTOR IN REVERSE! YOU ARE USING TOO MUCH CLUTCH!

STOP PUSHING HIM—AND SOON YOU'LL HAVE HIM IN TOW!

BUT I DON'T HAVE A CAR.

MINKA! FOR THIS ONE I'VE GOT TO DRAW PICTURES.

FRECKLES

TONIGHT IS THE NIGHT OF THE "BIG DAY NINETIES" DANCE IN KINGSTON. IN KEEPING WITH THE SPIRIT OF THE OCCASION, FRECK AND JUNE ARE DRIVING OVER IN THE SURREY. FRECK'S HORSE "DROOPY" HAS BEEN PUT ON PROBATION AND WE CAN ONLY HOPE FOR THE BEST...

IT'S JUST LIKE A PAST HENRY!

YES, MARY—AND I REMEMBER WHEN!

IT'S A LONG TRIP TO KINGSTON. I HOPE THEY'LL BE ALL RIGHT!

WITH ONE HORSEPOWER EQUIPMENT, THEY'LL BE SAFE!

LET'S WRAP THE REINS AROUND THE WHIP-SOCKET AND FLY BY INSTRUMENT!

RIP KIRBY

RIP KIRBY'S NEW YORK APARTMENT.

DOGGONE THAT PHONE!

MR. REMINGTON KIRBY'S RESIDENCE.

HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA, CALLING... ONE MOMENT, PLEASE.

I'M SORRY, MISS LEE, BUT MR. KIRBY IS OUT OF TOWN VACATIONING. YOU KNOW.

OH, DESMOND, I MUST GET IN TOUCH WITH HIM! I NEED HIM DESPERATELY. I'M IN TROUBLE!

AROUND HOME

WHAT WAS IN THIS ENVELOPE WHEN YOU WERE IN COLLEGE?

THE LOVE LETTERS YOU WROTE TO ME.

WE TOOK 'EM TO SCHOOL.

AND THE KIDS THOUGHT THEY WERE SWELL.

AND OUR TEACHER SAID SHE'D LIKE TO MEET THE MAN WHO COULD POUR IT ON LIKE THAT AND MAKE A GIRL BELIEVE IT?

SHE DID?

I'M JUST GOING UP TO THE SCHOOL TO HAVE A LITTLE TALK WITH MY LITTLE TEACHER.

STEVE CANYON

ON I ALWAYS MISS THE EXCITING THINGS ON THESE CARNES! WHAT HAPPENED?

WE DON'T SEE IT, BUT WE HEARD THAT THE NATIVE DANCERS' BOY FRIEND WENT AFTER AN AMERICAN PRINCESS WITH A KNIFE! SEE IT? LIKE TO HAVE JEALOUS RIFTERS FIGHTING OVER A—

GEORGE FLIMA WHAT WAS THE COMOTION DOWNSTAIRS?

THE PRINCE! CLUB FOR I SUPPOSE. GEORGE FLIMA CALADON! MY STAFF WILL OVE ME A REPORT ON IT TOMORROW. SHALL WE DRIVE SOMEWHERE ELSE TO DANCE?

ONE OF THOSE WOMEN MENTIONED AN AMERICAN PRINCE IN THAT PRINCE AT YOUR CLUB. I WONDER ON—WHAT'S THAT?

JUST A CROWD AROUND A POOR ALCOHOLIC, PROBABLY.

STEVE CANYON!

ORPHAN ANNIE

I SAW HER! OH, WHAT A MESS—JUST DRIVING SLOWLY THROUGH THAT SIDE STREET—THEN THAT MESS SCREAMED!

AND THAT OLD COYKE CLAIMED TO BE HIS MOTHER—CLAIMED TO HIT HER SON—JUST A DRIFTY TRICK—BUT THE MESS WOULD HAVE KILLED ME—

THEN THE COP CAME—HE BOUGHT HER—SHE WENT THE SCENE—SHE SAVED MY LIFE—JUST A GLIMMER OF HER—HAD HE SHE? I'VE GOT TO FIND HER—

FOIST, I'LL PUT DIS FISH IN MY POCKET.

NOW I'LL PUT THESE BONES IN MY OTHER POCKET.

YOU'RE HIRED—THEY SEEM TO LIKE YOU.

BOY WANTED MUST BE FRIENDLY WITH ANIMALS.

PET SHOP

ALLEY OOP

WELL, HERE WE ARE. WOW! WOTTA BLOW-OUT—GEE, OSCAR!

STEADY PAL—JUST REMEMBER YOU CAN LICK ANY GUY IN TH' HOUSE!

COLONEL GOP AND WHEU BOOM!

OF THESE GENTLE MEN I HAVE NOT HEARD. WHO ARE THEY?

THEY ARE, MOST LOVELY JOSEPHINE THE NEW-EST OF YOUR HUSBANDS' LIEUTENANTS.

OUI... AN DO THEY RATE!

SMITTY

OH, GREAT BLACK SPIRIT! HELP LITTLE MOOSE!

FAT PALEFACE STILL WALKS—SMILE ON LITTLE MOOSE AND HELP ME KILL FAT ONE!

NAVY UNVEILS NEW BIG SIX-INCH A.A. GUNS FOR FUTURE WARSHIPS

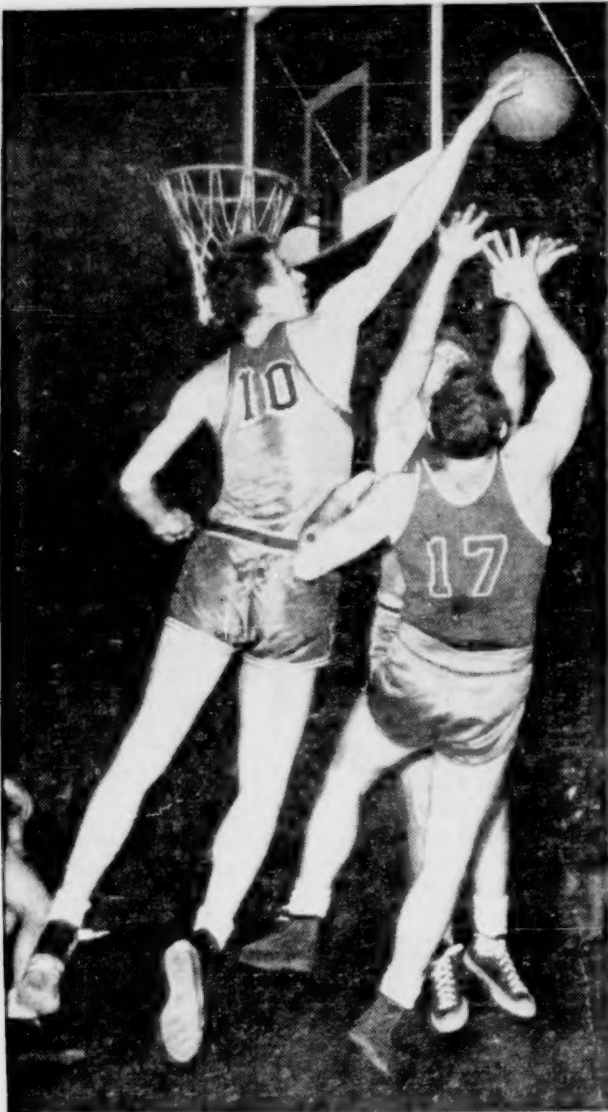

ARTIST'S LIFE: ONE PAINTS BONES, ANOTHER WRAPS MODEL IN BLANKET

Copyright, 1947, by Acme Newspictures

BEHAVING LIKE A LITTLE LAMB—Kathy Saucer, two, Oregon, Mo., is a substitute mother to this little lamb, last of a litter of three. The lamb finds milk from a whisky bottle still tastes good.

BOARDING HOUSE REACH—Marty Goldstein (17) of New York University tried hard, but superior height gave John Foley (10) of Notre Dame the advantage—and possession of the ball. The Irish chalked up a 64-60 win over NYU in their game in New York City.

SUNDOWNER—When freezing line moved north again, Martha Mitchell took to the surfboard at Cypress Gardens, Fla.—to get a suntan.

NEW BIG BOOM FOR THE NAVY—The new six-inch gun (above) developed for the U.S. Navy is the first rapid-fire anti-aircraft mount of such large caliber. These dual-purpose guns will be mounted in twin turrets, three forward and three aft, in new light cruisers.

ABANDONS SCALPEL FOR BRUSH—Drawing pictures in class paid off for Dr. Frank H. Netter, Oyster Bay, L. I., who planned a surgeon's career and instead has become the world's foremost medical illustrator. Professors who once complained of Netter's drawing in classes now use drawings to teach others.

GREETINGS—Asaf Ali (right), India's first ambassador to the U. S., is greeted by little Ajit Grewal, two, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Grewal, attached to the Indian Embassy, during a reception in Washington.

PILOT'S REWARD—The first thing Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker, El Centro, Calif., did when he flew in at La Guardia Field, N.Y., non-stop from Honolulu, was to kiss his wife, Betty Jo, for whom the Army's twin Mustang fighter plane is named. The flight took 14 hours, 33 minutes.

HE'LL SWAP IT FOR A FUTURE—This flood of mail poured in on cheerful, blond, Johnny Barr, five, of St. Louis, Mo., in just one morning. But Johnny probably would trade it all for a chance to live. Four doctors say his chance of survival from a kidney disease are only one in 1000.

IT'S COLD IN PARIS this winter, and the artist's model (above) won't pose in the nude. ("It's just one case of sniffles after another.") So painter Gilbert Thevenot has to catch his pose a bit at a time—here the legs and one shoulder.

COLD FLOWER—It is cool in Fort Churchill, Can., where Fiorello LaGuardia, former Mayor of New York, made an inspection trip as chairman of the U.S.-Canadian Joint Defense Board. But the "Little Flower" flourished when he donned this winter outfit and a big cigar.

RESCUE AT SEA—Gloucester fishermen hurriedly leave the foundering schooner Catherine M. Brown for the safety of a tanker. The nine men aboard the schooner fought all night to save the vessel but it was a losing battle. All were saved, however, before the schooner foundered off Cape May, N. J., during one of the season's worst storms.

Give Up Divorcee With Children

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a bachelor, engaged to a divorcee with whom I am very much in love. She is a fine woman, but she has made herself a doormat for her three daughters. They are grown and have jobs, but Mother slaves for them. She does the cooking, washing and ironing, and works outside of the home. In addition, she sews until two o'clock at night making beautiful clothes for them. Their closets are bulging with lovely tailored dresses, but they complain that they have nothing to wear and that their mother neglects the housework.

WHEN I CALL on her, she is always head over heels in work. Probably looks untidy and is doing the family washing at mid-night. The girls are all to be married soon to poor young men, and I wonder if she will have time to make a home for me, or if she will continue to cater to her daughters and later to the grandchildren? I wonder if I can expect a home or any happiness from this marriage?

PUZZLED
ANSWER: I think not, for a woman with that sort of mother complex will always be all mother and no wife. And children who have never thought of Mother as anything but a slave will continue to dump their burdens on her after they are married, and expect her to stay with their babies when they want to step out and to make them pretty clothes, and cook up good Sunday dinners for them.

Children treat their mother the way she has taught them to treat her. If Mother has brought them up to be utterly selfish where she is concerned and to treat her without respect and sympathy, they will go on doing it to the end of the chapter. So you needn't expect that this slave mother will tell her daughters that they are on their own now and that she is going to have a little life of her own.

So, unless you want to offer yourself up as a sacrifice to the daughters, I think you had better hunt up some woman for a wife who hasn't too many handicaps.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have not been married two weeks yet, and we were so happy for a few days. He has three children, but his ex-wife keeps them. I also have two little girls. His ex-wife nagged him for a year and a half before he gave her a divorce, which she wanted so badly, but now she can't stand the idea of his being married again. She calls him every few days and cries and begs him to get a divorce from her. She tells him she will make his children hate him if he doesn't.

MY HUSBAND and I love each other very much and want to stay married. What should we do? Should we leave this city and go somewhere else?

ANSWER: WORRIED MIND
Possession is nine points of the law, and inasmuch as you are in full legal possession of the gentleman there is no way his ex-wife can force him to divorce you and go back to her. She has lost her claim upon him. Evidently she is trying to cry her way into making him ditch you, and if he is weak enough to let her succeed, I don't think you will be losing much in letting her have him.

If wives would only make up their minds about whether they really want a divorce or not, it would save a lot of trouble and legal complications. Apparently a large number of them don't want their husbands themselves, but they don't want any other woman to have them. And when they hear of Number Two arriving on the scene, they get busy trying to repossess them.

But make your husband decide which one of his two wives he wants so you will know where you stand.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married ten years and have provided well for my wife. I give her plenty of money, a nice home and a car. The trouble is she objects to my going out with other women. I always tell her when I do and don't try to keep anything from her, but she nags me night and day and threatens to leave. What shall I do?

PUZZLED HUSBAND
ANSWER: Suppose you try staying at home with your wife instead of running around with strange women. That would, at least, stop her nagging and trying to find out where you have been.

You seem to think that your wife is unreasonable in objecting to your having these little affairs with other women. How would you like it if she was stepping out with boy friends? Giving your wife a good living and a car isn't enough pay for a husband's philandering.

(1) Theory That Indians Came from Asia

We know very little about the earliest inhabitants of North and South America. It is generally believed that they came over from Asia through Alaska.

The first European explorers in North America found the continent inhabited by the race that we call the American Indians. It was Columbus who described them as Indians in the belief that he was near the coast of South Asia. Indians are not all alike but, on the whole, they have certain physical characteristics in common. Their hair is straight and black; their eyes are black; their cheekbones are prominent; skin color ranges from reddish brown to yellowish brown. There are many individuals of the Mongolian race having these same characteristics. So it is believed that the earliest Indians of America were related to the Mongol peoples of Asia.

The outer corner of Alaska, at Bering Strait, is only 50 miles vague traditions of lands across the ocean, known as the "Isles of the Blest." It is possible that these were based on voyages across the Pacific. Also, the Polynesians of the South Pacific were skillful seafarers, accustomed to travel long distances in their outrigger canoes. At least one canoe from Polynesia must have reached the New World, because a stone club like many found in New Zealand has been found in South America in a grave dating back before the time of Columbus.

What about contact across the Atlantic Ocean? The Greeks knew of land beyond the Straits of Gibraltar. Occasionally, vessels sailed out to the west and returned with tales of land. Was the land the Canary Islands, was it that part of Africa which bulges far to the west, or did the Greeks reach the coast of Brazil or of Central America? Some of the Indians of Central America had traditions of bearded "gods" who visited their country long ago. The American Indian does not have a beard. Who can these bearded people have been? A possible explanation is that they were Europeans, perhaps Greeks.

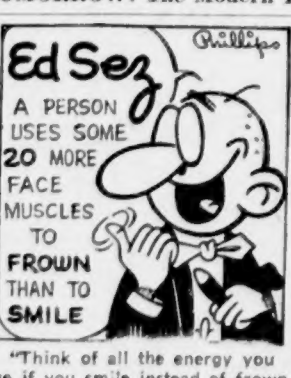

An Indian camp in the forest, showing tipi (teepees).

from the corner of Siberia; and if the early inhabitants of North and South America came from eastern Asia, this must have been where the crossing was made. Did the Indians come from Asia, or did the Mongols go to Asia from America? In different parts of Asia and of Europe there have been found relics of very early men. No relics of such antiquity have been found in North or South America. From this fact, as well as from other bits of knowledge, men who have studied the question believe that the Indians came from Asia, rather than the Mongols from America.

When did they come? Geologists tell us that there were periods when the northern part of the northern hemisphere was entirely covered with ice, which moved southward as glaciers. Such movements of the ice occurred four times. During the last period of cold, while eastern North America was completely covered with ice, there seems to have been a western strip not covered that extended up into Alaska. It may have been along this route that the early Indians came from Asia—during the last glacial period.

Did the Indians live in isolation in America up to the arrival of Columbus? We cannot answer exactly, but there is evidence that America was not entirely cut off from the rest of the world. The Chinese of early times had

Bridge

Tournament bridge has an ardent new supporter in Fred Hirsch of New York. He has received his training from one of the country's best, Harry J. Falsheim. Hirsch takes plenty of time to count out a hand, something too many players fail to do.

A surprising number of good players failed to make six spades on today's hand. After winning the opening lead with dummy's ace of

♠ A Q 10 7 6 5	♥ K 9 5	♦ 6 4	♣ 5 4
♠ 8 4 3 2	♥ J 8 4 2	♦ K Q J 2	♣ 10

hearts, they made the mistake of trying to cash the ace and king of clubs in order to ruff a club; or they led the jack of spades and overlooked the queen in order to ruff a heart in dummy. Then they had to lose a spade and a diamond.

After winning the ace of hearts, Hirsch cashed the jack of spades, playing low from his own hand. Then he cashed the ace of diamonds and led a small diamond. West won and returned a heart, which Hirsch could ruff safely in dummy with the king of spades. He ruffed another diamond, picked up the adverse trumps, cashed the king of hearts, and won the last two tricks with the ace and king of clubs.

The pitfall that Hirsch avoided was taking for granted that the trumps were going to break three-two. With the singleton ace of hearts in dummy, he said he expected the trumps to break four-one or possibly five-none.

Q "Please give me an exercise to correct round shoulders and lift the bust line."

A Stand with your back against the wall and your feet away from the wall. Press your shoulders against it. Flatten them against it. Hold them this way as you slowly raise your arms overhead, elbows bent almost half way, and backs of hands touching the wall. Hold for a few seconds and then slowly lower your arms to your sides dragging hands down the wall. Repeat five times a day at first, gradually working up to 25 times daily. Do this exercise slowly.

Q "Some months ago I had a baby. Before then I was a small girl, weighing 114 pounds. I have gained up to 130 pounds. I wish to lose some weight in my thighs and through my waist and stomach. I do not wish to go on a diet. Could you suggest some exercises? Should I go on a diet? I will be looking for your answer in the Question Box."

A You did not give me your height, but since you do not want to diet, I guess that you were underweight before and want to keep the weight and lose in inches only. If you are not overweight, exercises will distribute your weight more beautifully. However, if you have too many pounds for your height you will have to diet as well as exercise. Exercise is most important for the woman who has had a child. Those abdominal muscles require toning. I haven't room here to describe all the exercises, but if you wish to have them send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request and I will be glad to send them to you.

Q "I read your column every day. You always write how to lose weight but never how to gain. I am a girl of 17 whose height is five feet, six inches, and I weigh 112 pounds. Although I eat like a pig I never gain weight. In my disgust I have been taking vitamin pills. Although I am not a thin person I would like to gain in the right places, which are my hips and bust. I could wear a 34 bra-siere but one side is smaller than the other, which makes it difficult. Could you tell me what to do?"

A You really ARE thin and should gain some weight. Vitamin B complex is especially helpful. Also, be certain that your daily menus contain the elements necessary for best health. Vitamin deficiency is a contributory factor in underweight. Get all the vitamins

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

This isn't the season for long trips by auto, but nevertheless, there are unfortunate children who are made ill by any ride in a car or any moving vehicle, no matter how short the trip.

There is no one answer for dealing with this problem. It is related to the fluid in the ears, which influences equilibrium. It is the futile effort of the individual child or adult to achieve balance, which is menaced by the moving vehicle, which causes the nausea.

Mrs. V. G. writes, "Every time we take out 4-year-old daughter on a trip, even for a short distance, she gets sick and vomits. She always wants to go but in a short time she turns pale and is very sick. We don't know what to do about this. Do you have any suggestions?"

One reader, seeing a similar plea in this column, wrote me that they had achieved a perfect cure by starting their drive at low speed. She reported that if they drove for some time at about ten miles an hour, that later they could accelerate and the child would not become ill.

Another method suggested was to blow up a paper bag and let the child inhale the air from the bag, which is carbon dioxide. This diminishes the nausea.

Some parents have found it expedient to feed the child before a journey, some found it better to wait until afterwards. Usually after the child vomits there is relief and the rest of the journey is uneventful.

Since it is an effort to achieve balance which affects the child, it might be helpful to allow her to lie down for a time, or to lay back against a firm support, until she is used to the motion.

Sometimes, all parents know, it is the excitement of going on a
